School Board Okays Repairs At Jefferson

Directors Also Plan Repairs to Exterior of Washington School

The Monessen School Board last night voted to spend $9,420 to make extensive repairs to the Jefferson elementary school building on McKee Ave.

Monessen Contracting Co. submitted the lower of two bids and was awarded the contract to repair the building's roof, windows, framework and surface. Copper rain gutters will also be installed.

Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent, told the board that "Jefferson's roof and other exterior parts have deteriorated to the point that something has to be done soon. These repairs will put the building in tip-top shape exteriorwise."

Haury's Construction Company's bid, including the copper gutters, was $10,872. Besides being higher, Haury's bid was also rejected because it failed to include a certified check, which was required in the advertisement for bids.

The board also took steps to make necessary repairs to the exterior of Washington School at Ninth St. and Summit Ave. by authorizing advertisements for bids.

Wall in Bad Shape

Dr. Pallone said the west outer wall of the building is in "bad shape and must be torn down." He said he has been advised by an architect that it be replaced with a double layer of brick.

Students, he stated will be moved to other parts of the building while repairs are being made.

The board accepted a proposal by the Hilltop Bus Lines, of Monessen, to transport school children from the Park Plan to the Vocational, Linden, Jefferson and High schools at a cost of $51 per day or $1,020 per month.

Using three buses and making seven trips, some 375 students will be transported daily.

Dr. Pallone pointed out that the $1,020 monthly fee is $240 cheaper than last year's monthly fee, or a savings of $1,980 over the school year. The savings, he said, was made possible after he and George Kessler, bus line owner, worked out a new and more efficient route schedule.

Rule Out Bus

The board, at previous meetings, had discussed the possibility of purchasing buses of its own. This was ruled out last night when it was learned that it would be cheaper to use hired transportation. The board had intended to buy two buses but only had parking facilities for one, meaning additional facilties would have to be built or rented.

The hiring of drivers and maintenance of the buses were other factors which caused the board to prefer hired buses.

The board approved the change of the School District's group insurance policy renewal date from October 1 of each year to February 1 of each year.

John A. Fiorill, a Vocational instructor, was granted a sabbatical leave of absence for one year for health reasons. According to school policy, Fiorill will receive one-half of his regular salary less necessary deductions providing the amount does not exceed $3,000 for the year.

The resignations of three teachers were accepted. They were Mrs. Ferne C. Shire and Mrs.

State Refuses to List Charges in Highway Firings

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department today continued an investigation of three suspended employes, but refused to pinpoint the nature of the charges against the three.

C. Chesney Wood, Greene County maintenance superintendent, John Lapping, an engineer assigned to the Uniontown district office, and Henry Zermani, Washington County assistant superintendent, were suspended without pay Monday "pending completion of an investigation into operations in Greene and Washington counties."

(Zermani is a resident of Monongahela. His salary as assistant Washington County maintenance superintendent is $4,329.)

Highways Department public information director William J. Dougherty at first declined to say anything about the suspension announcement which came from his office. Later he said the inquiry involved "leasing of equipment." Still later he said the men were charged with alleged mismanagement and 'lack of administrative judgment."

Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler was unavailable for comment.

The suspensions may be the result of a Justice Department investigation which officials said began in the department six weeks ago. At a special news conference last week, Gov. George M. Leader revealed that three other Democratic employes in the department are charged with irregularities in connection with an alleged $45,000 cinder fraud.

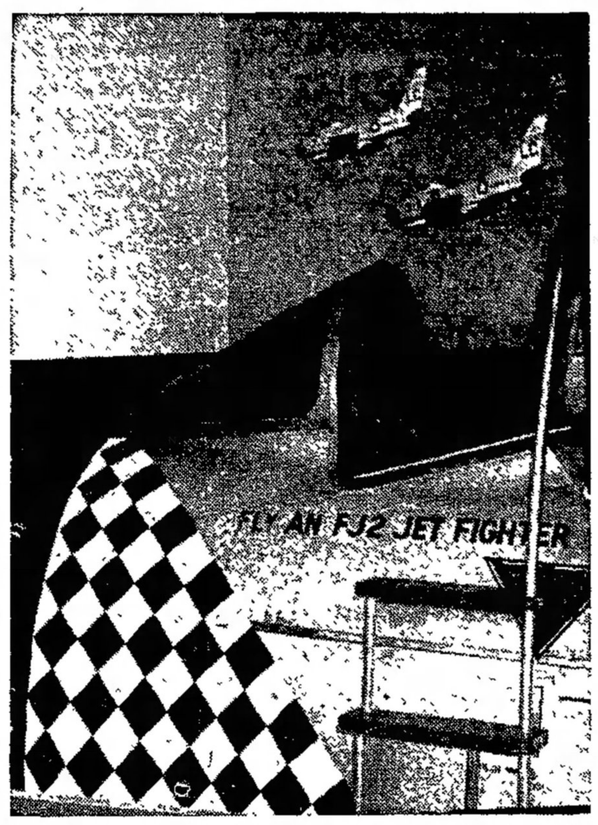
A department spokesman said the investigation was started when "it was found that allocations for equipment rentals were being exceeded." He said the inquiry indicated that leased equipment was being used while state-owned machines stood idle.

Dairy Farmer Strike Hits NY

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP)—A dairy farmers' strike for higher prices threatened today to halt the flow of milk deliveries throughout the state.

But the impact was tempered by reports that four major milk cooperatives representing a majority of the New York milkshed's 55,000 dairy farmers, were opposed to any action at this time.

The strike was called by two organizations—the Dairy Farmers of America, with a membership of about 3,000 and the Farmers Union, numbering 6,000. The Syracuse Dairy Farmers Cooperative, whose membership is about 500, voted Tuesday night by a show of hands to refrain from striking but a check showed that many of its members were participating actively.



JET AT FAIR — Visitors to the Allegheny County Fair, to be held at South Park from August 29 through September 2, will have the opportunity to simulate flying a United States Marine F2J jet fighter when they visit this section of the Marine Corps Traveling Exhibit. The exhibit will be open to the public free of charge throughout the fair dates and will include eight major Leatherneck displays.

Drought-stricken East Misses Rain

By UNITED PRESS

The drought-stricken East alone was untouched by a broad pattern of thunderstorm activity and showers which extended eastward from the Rockies, then stopped where it was needed most.

Instead, New England spent a chilly night, as cool air lingered after pushing the mercury down to record lows Tuesday. Providence, R.I., recorded 49.6 degrees for the day, an all-time record

The Mississippi Valley was hardest hit by the night-time thunderstorms which deposited three inches in a two-hour period at Wellsburg, Iowa, and more than two inches at Dike, Iowa.

Earlier in the day, heavy rains built up flash floods which coursed through Arkansas and killed two elderly persons when their car was swept away by the rushing water.

Warming Trend

A warming trend raised temperatures 10 to 15 degrees during a 24-hour period in the Great Lakes area.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms will cover most of the nation today except for a high-and-dry strip running from the Pacific northwest to New England, leapfrogging the Great Lakes area. Warmer weather will prevail from the Great Lakes and the upper Ohio Valley on a sweep northeastward to New England.

Speeds to Jail

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (UP)—Motorist Wayne Flickenger learned the hard way that haste makes waste. After being given a ticket for speeding, Flickenger sped away again. This time, he was jailed.

Japanese Can Fine Girard Only $3, Says Jurist

HONOLULU (UP)—Army Specialist William S. Girard, facing trial for manslaughter in a Japanese court, can be found guilty only of negligence and fined about $3, a former U.S. chief justice in Germany said Tuesday.

William Clark, 66, outspoken jurist who was fired by Ambassador James E. Conant over a policy dispute, made the comment as he arrived here enroute to Tokyo for the Girard trial.

Clark said the Japanese may charge the GI with intentional killing but "I don't see how they can prove it." He said the death of a woman on an American Army firing range was "a fluke" as she was struck by an empty cartridge case Girard shot from a grenade launcher and this would not ordinarily prove fatal.

Clark, of Princeton, N.J., and former judge of the Third U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, quoted the Japanese criminal code which states that "persons who cause death of another through negligence shall be punished with a fine of not more than 1000 yen (about $3)."

"That's what he's charged with," Clark said.

Atlantic Drops Gasoline Price

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —A one-cent drop in the suggested retail price of Atlantic Refining gasoline went into effect today in Pennsylvania.

The new suggested price of 18.9 cents per gallon, excluding taxes, in Eastern Pennsylvania and 19.9 cents in Western Pennsylvania is to establish "better relationship between normal prices areas and those depressed price areas where Atlantic has been forced to meet competitive retail pricing," the company said.

Jeannette Board To Reopen School

The Jeannette School Board changed its mind about closing an elementary school when 100 residents showed up at a meeting this week.

The Board quickly reversed an earlier decision to close the West Jeannette School when the large delegation presented a petition signed by 426 persons.

American Youths Go To China

MOSCOW (UP) — Forty-one young Americans left Moscow for Red China aboard the "Peipng Special" train today in open defiance of the State Department's ban on China travel.

Several backed out of going at the last minute after a night of soul-searching and argument whether to defy Washington.

The 41 who stood by their determination to go, left Moscow's Yaroslav Station at 4 p.m. (9 a.m. e.d.t.). The train will follow the Trans-Siberian line, arriving at Peiping in eight days.

The hosts on this first organized American junket to Peiping are the Communist Communists.

To Go Later

Three other Americans who attended the Communist youth festival here last week said they would go to Peiping by plane later to join the organized tour.

The two Americans who dropped out of the tour today were Richard Sherman, of Chicago, Ill., and Stan Fukson, of Los Angeles, Calif. Their reasons for dropping the trip were not known immediately.

Those planning to fly to Peiping were brothers David and Albert Maysles, of Brookline, Mass., and Jacob Rosen, of New York City.

Rosen was in Kiev attending a congress of the organization of world democratic youth.

Ex-convict from California Faces Charge of Murder

Orville Kittle, 35, of California, Pa. who was paroled five months ago from the Moundsville, W. Va. Penitentiary, was arraigned yesterday on a murder charge in the shooting of his nephew.

The arraignment took place before Alderman James E. Mawhinney who ordered that Kittle be remanded to Washington County jail.

District Attorney Michael A. Hanna said the state would press for a first degree murder conviction in the case.

Kittle shot his nephew, Wayne Lasko, 26, of Cleveland, through the heart with a .38 caliber pistol last Saturday when Lasko attempted to disarm the former convict.

The scuffle took place in California.

State Police said Lasko, who had come from Ohio to vist his mother for the weekend, was shot through the heart while he grappled with Kittle for possession of a revolver. The gun was taken from Police Chief Red Hazlett, of Speers, who went to question Kittle about a burglary, police said

Kittle exchanged shots with California Police Chief Robert Elliott, who had been called to assist in the arrest, and then he (Kittle) fled the scene of the shooting in Elliott's police cruiser. He was captured several hours later at a State Police roadblock near Crucible, Greene County, about 15 miles south of California.

No Agreement in Brewery Dispute

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Negotiators for the Pittsburgh and Duquesne brewing companies apparently stuck to their $4-a-week raise plus fringe benefits contract offer today.

Representatives of the two major Pittsburgh breweries met Tuesday with a joint union committee representing Brewers Local 22, Drivers Local 67 and Bottlers Local 144, but the session recessed until next Monday with no change reported in the contract deadlock

The breweries last week offered a new two-year contract providing for a 10-cents-an-hour raise this year and a second 10 cents raise next year, plus concession on vacations, paid holidays and improved pension and hospitalization plans. Employes, by a vote of 597 to 318, rejected the proposals as inadequate but authorized a three-week extension of the contract in an effort to reach a settlement by Labor Day.

Gerald Sheafnocker

Brookville Man To Head Firemen

ALBION, Pa. (UP) — Gerald Sheafnocker, Brookville, was expected to be elected president of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Assn. today succeeding Peter R. Terrini of Latrobe.

Sheafnocker, currently vice president, is a past burgess at Brookville and had been president of his local fire department for 16 years.

Approximately 12,000 members of the association are attending a week-long gathering in this Erie County community. A highlight to the 64th annual convention will be a parade Thursday featuring 200 marching units.

Long-time West Newton Chemistry Teacher Resigns

After 34 years, West Newton High School is in the market for a new physics-chemistry teacher

Charles Mullin, of Vine St., West Newton, has submitted his resignation after more than three decades of teaching.

According to Supervising Principal James Sterner, Mullin resigned because of ill health.

"And that leaves us with quite a problem," said Sterner. "We just don't have anyone to take Mr. Mullin's place even though school will resume in a few weeks."

Mullin, who served in both world wars, was active in school affairs He was long-time sponsor of the junior class and he handled all activities accounts.

Sterner said he is accepting applications from qualified physics-chemistry teachers.

District Industrial Group to Incorporate

A petition for a charter will be presented to the court in Harrisburg this week by the new incorporators of the Connellsville Industrial Enterprises.

Vincent J. Cuneo, chairman of the Yough City's $100,000 fund campaign and one of the 10 incorporators chosen at the meeting, states that $33,000 has already been raised with $40,000 expected by the end of the week.

The charter will put the corporation into business as an industrial development organization, leaders added.

Council Meets

Monessen City Council met this morning for a routine business session.

At noon, Council was still listening to a lenghty report prepared by the Pennsylvania Economy League on the city's volunteer Fire Department.

Latest Freedom Riot Quelled by Commie Troops

LODZ, Poland (UP) — Troops and militia broke Lodz' three-day streetcar strike today by ejecting sit-down strikers from the car barns.

The strikers, tired and dissheveled after their hold-out against government warnings, offered no resistance. The first streetcars appeared on the streets around 5 a. m. and by noon there was somewhat limited service.

But fear of police, fear of hunger and fear for the future had returned to Poland's second-largest city for the first time since the anti-Stalinist upheaval a year ago.

Streetcarmen now refused to talk to foreign newsmen—an unusual thing in Poland since "liberal" Communist Wadysaw Gomulka came into power.

Buses and streetcars were running for the first time in two days but with "workers militia" guarding the drivers.

Polish army troops and militia occupied the suburban Dombroaski Depot between 8 and 9 a.m. today and evicted the sit down strikers there. Newsmen arrived at the scene after the action was over but saw two ambulances and a police wagon leaving the scene.

This action indicated that some workers attempted to hold out for a third day and had to be removed by force. The back of the walkout had been broken earlier when about 80 per cent of the strikers agreed to return to work.

The government rushed in reinforcements of troops and militia from Warsaw Tuesday when the situation became tense and ugly but no major outbreaks of violence erupted. There were a few scattered clashes in addition to this morning's action.

An estimated 80 per cent of the city trolleys were operating today, but service appeared slow and erratic.

Each motorman was accompanied in the driver's compartment by a burly guard with a red and white armband showing he was a member of the so-called "workers militia," the Communist Party's muscle squad.

Early indications were the strike had ended peacefully. The Dombrowski Depot incident came later. A group of about 50 men who were supposed to be working on the trolley lines sat by the roadside smoking cigarettes. They refused to discuss the strike.

Another group of 500, many of them in their motormen's uniforms, stood around talking quietly and smoking. There were reports they had been evicted by 100 army troops and steelhelmeted militia equipped with tear gas, but there was no indication tear gas was used.

Explosion Damages Pittsburgh Homes

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A shattering explosion, believed to be caused by dynamite or nitroglycerin, damaged three homes in a fashionable Squirrel Hill section early today, but no one was injured.

A short time later, police impounded an automobile which witnesses said was in the neighborhood at the time of the blast.

The damaged houses were owned by three prominent Pittsburgh businessmen and police were mystified as to the reason for the blast. They said there was no apparent connection between it and a wave of recent racket bombings in the city.

Bricklayers End Month-long Strike In Uniontown

A month-long strike of bricklayers in Uniontown ended last night following a meeting of union and construction company representatives.

A. F. Sadorf, spokesman for the contractors group, said the striking bricklayers will return to work tomorrow. The strike had held up construction on a "5-in-4" factory building along Route 119.

The strike-breaking agreement on commercial construction included a 12½ cents per hour increase throughout 1957 and retroactive to July 1; and, beginning Jan. 1, 1958 and effective throughout the year, an additional increase of 25 cents per hour.

The bricklayers, members of Local 57, Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers, also agreed that any construction started before Oct. 1, 1958, will be completed at the rate in force at start of construction.

Another clause provides that commercial construction started after Oct. 1 and before termination of the contract, will be subject to a new rate if one is decided on.

Residential construction rates, according to Mr. Sandorf, will follow the commercial contract but in all cases be 25 cents per hour lower.

Negotiations, held in the offices of Uniontown Construction Co., were handled by T. E. Tunstall of Brownsville, state conciliation service mediator. The union was represented by its president, Edgar Miller of Smithfield.

Monessen Man Hurt in Mishap

Harry Reinhardt, 113 McKean Ave., Monessen, is "resting comfortably" in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today where he was taken early this morning following an auto accident on Donner Ave.

According to Monessen police, Reinhardt was traveling west on Donner between Mohawk and Seneca Sts. when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, lost control of his car and struck a utility pole.

Reinhardt suffered head and right hand injury. The seriousness of his injuries had not been determined this morning, according to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital attendants as X-ray results were still indefinite.

Extensive front end damage to Reinhardt's car resulted from the mishap. The car had to be towed away.

Firemen's Parade Set at Charleroi

Tonight is parade night at Charleroi as a feature of the Charleroi Fire Department's Old-Fashioned Street Fair.

Approximately 40 fire companies and at least 10 bands are expected to participate in the ade. Fair weather has been promised but it is expected to be cool. The midway is located on McKean Avenue near the entrance to the parking lot there.

The fair will run the remainder of this week.

Perryopolis Youth Hurt by Gunshot

A Perryopolis youth was in critical condition in a Pittsburgh Hospital today following a gun accident.

Ralph Lynn, Jr., 15, was shot in the abdomen when a .22 caliber rifle carried by a friend, Paul Fallow, 13, of Layton, discharged as the boys were walking on a "bird hunt."

Perryopolis Police Chief Stewart Stickel is investigating the incident.

Weiss Has Already Resigned Three of Five Public Jobs

Attorney David H. Weiss of Monessen today had resigned three of his five salaried public jobs and expects to have quit the other two by tomorrow.

On Friday Weiss takes the oath as a common pleas judge of Westmoreland County, a post to which he was appointed by Gov. George Leader.

In order to accept the appointment, which runs to next January, Weiss is required to divest himself both of his private law practice and of his other public positions.

He resigned last night as solicitor of the Monessen School District and as solicitor of the Rostraver Twp. School District.

Weiss turned in his resignation as a solicitor for the City of Monessen at a meeting of City Council this morning, and this afternoon he said he will submit his resignation as solicitor for the Rostraver Twp. Road Supervisors.

Tomorrow, he said, he will give District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco his resignation as an assistant D. A.

Altogether Weiss' five jobs have been paying him $9,050 a year. He gets $5,000 as assistant D. A., $2,250 as city solicitor, $1,200 as Monessen school solicitor and $300 a year each from the two Rostraver bodies which he has served.

In addition, Weiss has been receiving special fees for other legal chores such as collecting delinquent taxes.

None of the bodies has as yet chosen a successor to Weiss But reports have it that Attorney Frank Ezerski Jr., of Monessen, will get the assistant D. A. job.

Weiss is understood to be plugging hard for his law associate, Bernard Shire, for one or more of the other positions.

The Monessen School board last night accepted Weiss' resignation unanimously.

The only comment came from President John Lancas, who said: "Mr. Weiss has brought honor to the city by being appointed a judge by Governor Leader. I am sure we all wish him success."

In his letter of resignation, Weiss said he was severing his connections with the school district "with a heavy heart".

He pointed out that he had been associated with the school system for 22 years, first as a director and later as solicitor.

Weiss praised Superintendent Joseph Pallone and his predeces-

Richard McCormick Named to DA Staff

District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco of Westmoreland County today appointed Atty. Richard E. McCormick, of Greensburg, to a vacancy on his staff of assistants.

The vacancy occurred earlier this year when Joseph M. Loughran, then Sculco's first assistant, split with the county Democratic organization to wage an unsuccessful independent campaign for a common pleas judgeship.

Sculco and Judge Edward G. Bauer defeated Loughran in a bitter contest for two Democratic nominations.

John K. Best, another assistant D. A., moved up to take Loughran's job, and now McCormick succeeds Best.

McCormick, who has practiced law in Greensburg for the past six years, was sworn in immediately by Judge John M. O'Connell and will assume his duties tomorrow.

McCormick's father, Paul K. McCormick, is a prominent criminal lawyer in Westmoreland County.

Sculco will have still another vacancy to fill tomorrow when another assistant, David H. Weiss, of Monessen, resigns to accept a judgeship appointment.

Courthouse reports say Frank Ezerski Jr., of Monessen, will get that job. Best and Weiss had both received $5,000 a year.

As first assistant, Best now gets $5,440 a year.

Dio Aides Won't Talk

Refuse to Answer All Questions

WASHINGTON (UP) — Three henchmen of hoodlum Johnny Dio refused to tell the Senate Labor Rackets Committee today their roles in a scheme to win control of the Teamsters Union in New York for vice president James R. Hoffa.

The witnesses, Harry Davidoff, Joseph Curcio and George Baker, invoked the Fifth Amendment on almost all questions, claiming the answers might tend to incriminate them.

The committee called the trio as a prelude to questioning mystery mobster Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo about the part he played in Teamster Union affairs.

The committee also hoped for testimony from Samuel Goldstein, former president of Teamsters Local 239 in New York who was convicted last month with Dio in a labor rackets case.

Key Figures

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy described Davidoff, Curcio and Baker as key figures in Dio's racketridden "mother local" 649 of the old AFL United Auto Workers.

Kennedy said Davidoff, Curcio and Curcio and Baker were involved in the establishment of phony "paper locals" in the Teamsters Union in November, 1955. The committee claims these locals were set up by Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa and staffed with Dio's henchmen to swing an election and give Hoffa control of all Teamsters in New York.

Corallo's name has cropped several times in earlier hearings. Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) described him as a narcotics racket figure. He said dues from exploited union members provided an income for "the mob" that worked for Dio and Corallo.

FBI Searches for Money Buried By Accused Spy

NEW YORK (UP)—FBI agents searched today for a large sum of money supposedly buried in the New York area by Russian master spy Rudolf Ivanovich Abel for use in financing his espionage ring.

One high official said the Soviet intelligence officer had hidden an estimated $50,000 in New York City and in parts of Long Island. A search for additional money also was reported in Poughkeepsie, 75 miles north of New York, where Abel allegedly had sought to set up a short wave radio station for espionage purposes.

The search for the money was disclosed shortly after FBI agents Tuesday found $15,000 in cash in a safe deposit box Abel had rented in a branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company under the name of Alan Winston. When arrested June 21 at his hotel room here, Abel had $6,000 in cash, according to the FBI. Authorities have speculated that Abel was aware he was under FBI surveillance and had planned to use the money to flee the country.

Again Postpone Nuclear Testing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP) — Unfavorable winds again today forced the Atomic Energy Commission to call another 24-hour delay in the firing of its Shasta nuclear device.

It marked a record number of 16 times that the test has been postponed. Scientists rescheduled the shot to be fired from a 500-foot tower for 5 a.m. p.d.t. Thursday.

No Hope Seen Now for German Unification

BERLIN (UP) — Communist Leader Nikita Krushchev headed home to Russia today, ending a visit that made it clear there is no hope for peaceful reunification of Germany in the foreseeable future.

Khrushchev and his entourage, including Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, left by train for the suburbs, where they planned to board a Moscow-bound plane.

In repeated speeches and official handouts climaxed by his address to a mass meeting here Tuesday, Khrushchev made it clear that the Kremlin is not prepared to listen to any practical proposal for German unity.

He flatly rejected Western plans for all-German elections as a prelude to reunification. He insisted—in defiance of four-power agreements—that any approach to unity must come through negotiations between the West German government and the Red regime of Soviet Germany.

Help Adenauer

Observers here believed Khrushchev's stand would help West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats to victory in next month's parliamentary election.

Campaigners for the socialist opposition in West Germany have been assailing the Chancellor because he is reluctant to negotiate with the Kremlin about Germany's future.

Khrushchev's declarations in Red Germany made it plainer than any Christian Democrat could that negotiations would be futile.

Dravo Begins New Dock Construction

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Dravo Corp. announced today that work has begun on a 2,500-foot unloading dock at Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation's new aluminum plant near Clarington, Ohio.

The new dock is designed to handle 15-barge tows from the Ormet Corp. aluminum plant at Burnside, La. Four 90-ton vacuum unloaders will be installed with connecting conveyor belts that will carry the alumina from barges to the reduction plant.

Double Trouble

TORRINGTON, Conn. (UP) — One trouble led to another for Cecil Greenwood, 28, of New Hartford.

He was under arrest today for paying a traffic fine with a bad check.

Mobs Demonstrate Against Negro Family in State

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (UP) — A home purchased by a Negro family was under police guard today following an angry demonstration by some 500 residents of this all-white "planned" community of 10,000.

A milling crowd, shouting and booing, gathered in front of the home of Willard Myers who moved into a house in the Dogwood Section Tuesday morning.

Myers, his wife and their children, William, 4; Stephen, 3, and Linda, 1-month, were escorted out of the area by police after several windows in their home were shattered by stones.

William Levitt, builder of the sprawling community in Lower Bucks County, was informed of the incident when he returned here Tuesday night from a business trip. He said he would not make a statement until he learned more details.

sor, Dr. Michael Duda, as "two of the finest superintendents."

The school board plans to interview applicants for the solicitorship at a closed meeting next Tuesday. It will make a choice at a public meeting on Aug. 27, Lancas said.

It was reported that four young Monessen attorneys are actively interested in the position. They are: Louis Manderino, Daniel Myshin, Gilfert Mihalich and Peter Demas.

The Rostraver directors also accepted Weiss' resignation last night, instructing the secretary to write him a letter expressing the board's thanks for "long and faithful service."

No action was taken on a successor, but Shire's name was mentioned during an informal discussion.

The Monessen City Council is not expected to replace Weiss. City Hall sources say the plan is to operate with Ezerski as the only solicitor, perhaps at an increased salary. He also has been receiving $2,250.

Weiss has served as city and school solicitor in Monessen for the past seven years. He has been Rostraver school solicitor for about 20 years.

Two elementary teachers were hired: Mrs. Gene Closky, at $3,200 per year, and Miss Anna Marie Zubic, $3,200 annually. Mrs. Anne Morgart was hird as a custodian.

Two applications for positions were accepted: Richard Raymond Wattras, of Monessen, secondary mathematics and social studies, and Mrs. Angeline Reda, cafeteria worker.

Board members present were John Lancas, president, Dr. Joseph Dudas, Alexander Kachmarik, Nicholas Cullen and Romeo Furio.

Ask Ban On Airline Drinking

WASHINGTON (UP)—Airborne partying featuring a disrobing lady and a kiss for the wrong wife have led to new demands for a ban on tippling aboard airliners.

But Chan Gurney, vice chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, insists there is no reason for a ban on safety grounds.

Sens. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) and Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), both non-drinkers, joined airline pilots and stewardesses Tuesday in urging a Senate commerce subcommittee that drinking aboard airliners should be stopped.

President Rowland K. Quinn Jr. of the air line stewardesses association testified that serving liquor aloft leads to incidents ranging from being annoying to dangerous.

Quinn said that during the last six months in the skies over the United States:

—An inebriated passenger sat down in a darkened cabin one night to kiss his wife. He kissed the wrong woman.

Mixes His Own

—Another inebriated passenger wandered into the plane's galley and began mixing his own drinks.

—One of a "group of jolly boys" threw a partially filled fifth of whisky to or at a friend and hit another passenger.

—A woman in high spirits stood up in the cabin and undressed herself. Passengers taking belated notice of the crew trying to put her clothes back on, accused the crewmembers of trying to undress her.

But a pretty, uniformed National Airlines stewardess told the committee that problems are not caused so much by liquor being served aboard planes as by passengers who come aboard already tipsy or with bottles.

He was a member of the United Mine Workers of America, having last worked at the Pittsburgh Coal Co.'s Pricedale Mine. He also held membership in the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America, in Bentleyville.

He is survived by three sons, Adam and John, both of Fairhope and Michael, in New York City; a daughter, Mrs. William (Martha) Raymond, of Pittsburgh and three grandchildren.

Friends are being received at the Shelby D. Ferguson Funeral home, Broad Ave., Belle Vernon, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Syria Orders Out American Officials

DAMASCUS, Syria (UP)—The Foreign Office announced today it has ordered three U.S. Embassy officials to leave the country within 24 hours as accomplices in an alleged "anti-Syrian plot."

The three Americans were identified as Lt. Col. Robert Molloy, the military attache; Howard Stone, of the embassy's political section, and Vice Consul Fris Getton.

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said the charges against the three men are "fabrications."

COUNTER SPY — Showman Boris Morros gives reporters a glimpse of his more than ten years as an American counter spy in Soviet espionage. He warned that the Russian plot against the free world "is more strongly organized" than is generally known.

George Humphrey New Chairman of National Steel

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey today was elected board chairman of National Steel Corp., the nation's fifth largest basic steel producer.

Humphrey, who resigned from the Eisenhower cabinet last month, succeeds the late Ernest T. Weir as head of National Steel. Humphrey, with Weir, helped organize the firm in 1929 and served as a member of the board and chairman of its executive committee until President Eisenhower appointed him secretary of the Treasury in 1953.

Election of Humphrey as chairman was the principal order of business at a meeting of the National Steel board of directors here today. He had been slated for the post since the 81 year-old Weir announced his retirement last April 24. Weir died in a Philadelphia hospital June 26.

Following Weir's retirement, National steel directors named President Thomas E. Millsop to succeed him as chief executive officer but delayed election of Humphrey as chairman until he had severed his connection with the Treasury Department.

In other business today, National directors declared a third quarter dividend of $1 per share, payable Sept. 12 to stockholders of record Aug. 26.

Three Arrested In Latrobe Raid

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)—A bartender and two officers of the Veterans and Sportsmen's Club at Latrobe were free under $500 bond each today pending court action on gambling charges.

Barlender Mike Skawar and the two officers, William Angus and William Stump, were arrested after county detectives raided the club and found a number of punchboards.

The three men, all of Latrobe RD 1, were charged with possessing gambling devices and permitting gambling in the club.

GOP May Support C. R. Bill

WASHINGTON (UP) — A key House Democrat said today he saw signs of a crack in the solid wall of Republican opposition to the Senate's "moderate" civil rights bill.

This congressman, a leader in the fight for civil rights legislation, based his statement on two developments Tuesday:

1. House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) said he does not think the Senate bill "necessarily" must go to a Senate-House conference although he prefers that method of handling.

2. Martin released copies of a telegram from Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Association of Colored People (NAACP), saying the Senate bill is not strong enough but "we definitely want to get a bill this session."

'Weak' Bill

House Republican leaders including Martin have heretofore insisted adamantly that the Senate bill, now before the House, be sent to a Senate - House conference committee for "toughening." They have maintained it would be better to pass no bill than what they call the "weak" Senate measure.

The Democratic member, who declined use of his name, said Martin's actions made it "pretty clear" the Republicans are feeling the strong pressure from civil rights groups for passage of a bill this year—even if no tougher than the Senate measure.

Sixteen leading civil rights organizations, including the NAACP, issued a joint statement last week saying in effect that while they would like a strong bill, they consider the Senate measure a "first step" and want it passed at the very least.

Two Prisoners in Daring Escape At Butler Jail

BUTLER, Pa. (UP)—Two prisoners were at large today after scaling a 20 foot wall and crawling over a stockade topped with barbed wire at the "escape proof" Butler County jail.

The two were identified as Thomas Jefferson Manny, 26, Butler, and Chester Samuel Brockman, 36, Youngstown, Ohio.

Brockman was awaiting sentence on burglary charges following his recent arrest in Youngstown. Manny was being held for jumping bail on a misdemeanor charge.

State Police Corporal Paul F. Nato said roadblocks were set up throughout the area following the discovery of the break at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday. Warden R.B. Dennis said the men scaled the walls and fled about 3 p.m.

A woman who witnessed the escape did not report it because she thought "everyone knew what was going on."

The prison, completed about a year ago, was termed an "escape proof" structure by authorities shortly after it was put into use.

Construction of the new prison was advocated largely because of the inferior security status of the old one.

Five Year Hitches For Air Force

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force says future pilots must sign up for a five-year hitch in the service instead of the current three years.

The Air Force noted that pilots signing up for the three-year period spent three-quarters of the time training to become "combat ready." It said, two-thirds of the intensively-trained pilots leave the service at the end of their three-year hitch.

The five-year enlistment period will mean "economy and better retention" of pilots for the Air Force, it said.

The longer tour of duty also will apply to those in the early stages of training at the present time, as well as to students in the Air Force ROTC, aviation cadets and the Air Academy programs.

Make Plans To Combat Flu Seige

WASHINGTON (UP)—Public Health Service officials briefed leaders of 13 major health organizations today on the prospects of a nationwide epidemic of Asiatic flu this fall or winter.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney presided at the closed-door conference a Public Health Service headquarters here. He opened the meeting with an up-to-date review of the slow but steady spread of the new flu virus in this country in the past few weeks.

Burney called the meetin gto map broad strategy for coping with the national-epidemic which he considers increasingly probable.

Representatives of the American Medical Association presented to the conferees the association's emergency plans for mobilizing medical manpower if and when the epidemic strikes.

Burney said he also planned to discuss with the medical leaders "how they may assist this fall in the effort to get as many Americans vaccinated with the new Asian strain vaccine as the supply will permit."

Although supplies of the new vaccine will be too small to reach any sizeable proportion of the population before late fall, U. S. Public Health Service officials do not now foresee any panicky scramble.

Rather they appear more concerned about public apathy and are planning an all - out educational campaign to urge everyone to get shots as soon as the vaccine is available.

Unique Civic Center Opens in St. Marys, Pa.

ST. MARYS, Pa. (UP) — A unique civic center, financed by a group of leading St. Marys manufacturers, will be opened formally today with state and local officials participating.

The center, valued at $250,000, was originally a plant owned by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. Sylvania moved into a new plant two years ago, leaving vacant the 50-year-old, 50,000-square foot facility.

Sylvania offered to donate the old plant to the town provided that part of the structure be maintained exclusively for youth activities. City officials were willing to accept the building, valued at $150,000, but felt that the tax rate could not support the expenditure required to convert the old plant into a civic center.

The St. Mary's Industrial Council, a group of manufacturers, assumed financial responsibility for converting the building and footed a $107,000 bill.

Youth Center

The civic center now provides space for the police department, all borough offices and a youth center which high school students of the town run themselves.

The youth center occupies the entire second floor of the two-story brick structure. To furnish their center the kids got a local auto dealer to donate a 1949 model car. A mechanic put the car in tip-top condition. The youths polished it to a high gloss, then began selling raffle tickets. The raffle netted them $500, a down payment on furniture.

Buy Furniture

A local service club was so impressed with the kids' desire to help themselves that it donated $1,500 to buy the rest of the furniture.

Between 400 and 500 high school students are members of the center, where Wednesday and Friday night dances are held. Now, town officials say that juvenile delinquency is unknown here.

The youth center can never be taken away from the youngsters, since Sylvania donated the building with that provision.

Post Office to Distribute Books

WASHINGTON (UP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today introduced a new do-it-yourself system to cut down on long waiting lines in front of parcel post windows.

The nation's larger post offices started distributing booklets telling at a glance the mailing costs in ounces of packages sent anywhere in the United States or its territories.

The postal chief said that the new booklets will simplify the present "complex" formula for postage charges based on weight and distance.

Texas Just Seems Dry, Says Senator

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) got some conflicting answers Tuesday when he asked at a hearing what states are still dry.

"Only two, Oklahoma and Mississippi," replied Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) of a Senate commerce subcommittee.

"Texas," loudly volunteered an unidentified woman in the audience.

"No," Smathers said. "Texas just seems dry."

THIS WAS CANADA'S WORST AIR DISASTER — This stark airview looks down on the debris-strewn wreckage of a chartered airliner in a swampland near Quebec City. The crash killed 79 persons in Canada's worst air disaster. Skilled investigators are probing the cause of the crash.

County Planning Commission To Distribute Proposed Rules

The Westmoreland County Planning Commission will distribute its proposed rules to members of the building and real estate professions.

That was decided during a meeting this week in Greensburg, at which time a tentative list of rules was adopted.

The preliminary plans were drawn up by a committee comprised of Robert DeLotto, chairman, Albert Chenet, Clark Queer and Ben Hebrank, in the form of a 39-page format.

DeLotto was directed to compile a list of county builders, real estate agents, architects, engineers and other interested parties. A copy of the tentative regulations will be sent to these persons and their comments and suggestions will be requested prior to the next regular meeting in September.

The final draft will be submitted to the County Commissioners for adoption after the planning group studies the requested comments.

Discuss Traffic

In other matters, the Commission discussed the traffic bottleneck which exists at East Pittsburgh street and East Otterman street on Route 30, and a motion was supported to ask City Council, the state, and other interested parties to give this problem their immediate attention.

The same motion called for immediate state action on the proposed four lane highway from Beatty to Kingston on Route 30, East. Commission members called the Route 30 problem acute and urged the complete cooperation of all agencies in bringing a solution in the near future.

Ben Hebrank gave a report on his investigation of county maps and was authorized by the Commission to get price quotations and other data necessary for possible future adoption of a good map for the county. Commission members have agreed that this is a very important factor for good county planning and it would be a good public service.

Report on Meetings

Chairman Avra N. Pershing, Jr., reported on meetings with the Mt. Pleasant and Lower Burrell Township planning groups. It was reported that commissions have now been adopted in both locations and overall master planning is developing for most of the county. Clark Queer reported much planning action in the Mt. Pleasant area due to the settlement of the Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt firm there.

The resignation of Joseph Bucci, Vandergrift, was accepted with regret by the Commission, and the resignation will be presented to the County Commissioners with the recommendation that a replacement be made in the near future.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday, September 9 at the Court House.

Members present at yesterday's session were: Pershing, DeLotto, Queer, Hebrank and C. W. Cline of Arnold.

Discuss Trade Associations at Rotary Meeting

An impromptu discussion of the activities of various trade associations was held at the regular weekly meeting of the Monessen Rotary Club at Johnson's yesterday.

The round-robin discussion was conducted by Zell Fein, chairman of the club's committee on trade associations.

He began by describing the work of organizations serving the trucking industry in which he is engaged.

Others who participated in the program, which had not been previously arranged, were William H. Pore, Pierce C. Johnson and Byron Beery.

Pore spoke of newspaper trade groups, Johnson of restaurants and Beery of steel and wire manufacturing.

Visiting Rotarians were Avra N. Pershing, of Greensburg, and Earl Daniel, of Charleroi.

Red Boss Guards His Bald Head

BERLIN (UP)—Soviet Communist Leader Nikita Khrushchev is sensitive about his bald spot, but not like most men.

He is sensitive to sunlight.

A bare-headed Khrushchev addressed a mass rally for more than an hour in East Berlin Tuesday and whenever the sun came out he reached for his white panama hat.

When the sun disappeared behind a cloud Khrushchev removed it and smoothed back his remaining hair.

Roommate of Ronnie Quillan Next in Confidential Case

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — A former roommate of self-admitted call girl Ronnie Quillan was expected today to add the next chapter in the spicy disclosures about movie stars at the Confidential Magazine criminal libel trial.

Carmen Jacques was one of several witnesses slated to testify in today's session of the trial. She once shared an apartment with Miss Quillan, who Tuesday testified she had an "affair" with Desi Arnaz.

Arnaz was quick to label Miss Quillan's testimony as "a lot of baloney."

"From the pictures I've seen of her, I don't think I could have done anything like that," Arnaz said.

Clark Gable was the first of Hollywood's top stars to be mentioned in lewd testimony. He was linked with an actress and also made a quick denial of the incident.

Woman Detective

Besides Miss Jacques, the prosecution indicated it would call to the stand Virginia Lee, a woman private eye. Others on tap to testify were Los Angles newspaperman Jerry McCarthy and court clerk Cecil Luskin.

Movie stars got a good case of the jitters with the prosecution's denial it would dismiss charges against Confidential Magazine if the defense made good its promise to turn movieland's top heroes and heroines into villians on the witness stand.

"We are going ahead as planned with this case," Asst. Atty. Gen. Clarence Linn said. "We took into consideration at the start that some one might get hurt but carrying out justice is our only concern."

Up to Judge

However, the prosecution has attempted to keep those not involved in articles cited as libelous from having to testify. It is up to Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker to rule on whether all of the subpenaed personalities' testimony would be revelent to the case.

Defense Attorney Arthur Crowley said he still plans to put the celebrities on the stand and ask them point blank if articles about them were true. He said, "too many people are worrying about movie stars getting hurt without thinking that the guilt should be placed on them for taking part in the episodes."

Objects to 'Iron Curtain' Ministers At Church Council

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — The appearance of several Lutheran churchmen from Iron Curtain countries at the third assembly of the Lutheran World Federation has been protested by a church leader.

Dr. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N. J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said the delegates "do not represent spiritually the dear Christian people suffering behind the Iron Curtain."

Nearly 50 million of the world's 70 million Lutherans are represented at the federation's meeting which opens tonight with a service at which Bishop Lajos Ordass, primate of the Hungarian Lutheran Church, will preach. The 11-day conference ends Aug. 25.

McIntire said churches in satellite countries are controlled by the Russians who send as delegates "only men they could trust."

Lutheran leaders from Poland, East Germany, and Yugoslavia also are attending the international conference.

Churches affiliated with the International Council of Churches include the Assemblies of God, Pentacostal Holiness Church, Free Methodist Church of North America, and the Open Bible Standard Churches.

Bishop Ordass, spent nearly two years in prison on trumped-up charges from which he was later absolved. He was forced into retirement for six years after his release and re-instated as primate of the church nearly a year ago.

Postpone Hearing On Cancer Clinic

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Attorneys for both sides agreed Monday to continue until Sept. 23 a Federal Court hearing on an injunction against the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Cambria County.

The postponement was requested by Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley.

A temporary injunction granted by the court May 28 will remain in effect. It prohibits the clinic from treating out-of-state patients.

Wild West Mural To Show Cowpoke Drinking Milk

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Hitch up yer hoss pardner and brace yerself for a tale that would have shuddered the ole wild west.

For several weeks, painters have been busy on a wild west mural for next month's Allegheny County free fair. It was a scene depicting the interior of a typical western saloon and the muralists were striving for reality.

The scene was dotted with cowpokes, glint - eyed gamblers and dancing girls. That was all right. But when the painters included whisky bottles, shot glasses and cocktail glasses, fair director George Kelly "went for his guns."

"Tarnation!" he thundered, "we expect children out here. This scene is too boozy."

Thereupon, the fair boss ordered the painters to change the whisky bottles to milk jugs or soda pop containers.

The painters complained. "Why, you'd think cowpokes drank nothing but cow juice and sodee pop," they said.

But Kelly finally won out. The painters blotched out the whisky bottles, shot glasses and cocktail glass with bright red paint.

College President Named by Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg (Pa.) College, has been named to a committee created by President Eisenhower to enlist intelligent, young businessmen for the federal government.

The President created the committee Monday to meet "the special needs and problems of the federal government in the selection, compensation and effective use of its top career civil servants."

Arthur S. Flemming, former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, was named chairman of the five-man committee.

Choosing Lawyers For Public Bodies

WHAT with Attorney David H. Weiss resigning four solicitorships of public bodies in this area in order to accept appointment as a county judge, these bodies now have an opportunity to establish a more satisfactory relationship with their legal advisers. And we hope they will all take the opportunity.

Nobody is in any doubt as to why Mr. Weiss was able to hold these multiple public positions with their not inconsiderable annual fees. And the reason, as practically everybody has known, was not the gentleman's brilliance as a lawyer; the reason was that for many years he has held a first class ticket on the gravy train of a political machine which is more interested in taking care of its bootlickers than in serving the public interest faithfully. It is for this same reason, incidentally, that Mr. Weiss is about to ascend the bench.

But it is more important that school boards, councils and other municipal governing bodies have dependable and independent legal advice as they transact the public business than that a political machine should be able to fatten some favored lawyer's income. This ought to be self-evident to the officials sitting on these bodies, but because of the long monopoly enjoyed by Mr. Weiss, the necessity perhaps has become obscured.

* * *

IT IS PROBABLY unrealistic to think that a council or a school board might choose a solicitor without any regard for political considerations. For better or for worse, things just are not done that way, at least in this vicinity.

It is nevertheless possible for these bodies to be able to turn to a solicitor and get advice from him on the basis of the law and of the responsibilities of the body concerned. And councilmen and school directors should not be satisfied with any other arrangement.

The Independent would not presume to suggest the names of particular lawyers for these positions. But we do feel justified in urging, on behalf of what must be a jority of our readers, that machine politics have less to do than it has had in the past with the selection of solicitors by school boards, councils and other public agencies. The first consideration has to be to furnish these bodies with reliable legal advice; political considerations, if any, have to be no more than secondary.

Highway Scandal

GOVERNOR Leader has come across some irregularities in the Highways Department which call for some vigorous action on his part.

The extent and the seriousness of these irregularities are not yet fully known. But the fact that some have occurred in the eastern part of the state and others in the west would suggest the existence of a pattern of conduct.

Mr. Leader, whatever else one may think about him and his administration, has shown a disposition to react positively when confronted by situations of this kind. His summary dismissal of one of his former cabinet members, John R. Torquato, a Cambria county politician, was the act of a courageous administrator.

The Governor has also shown a proper awareness of the implications of the Highways Department affair, and we trust he will not rest until it has been thoroughly cleared up and the guilty parties, if any, driven from the state payroll and prosecuted.

It seems appropriate to call public attention again to the fact that, for many years and under the control of both political parties, there has been too much politics in the Highways Department from the top down. Virtually every appointee in this vast department owes his job in some degree to his political connections. And unfortunately this applies almost as much to professional people, such as engineers, as to day laborers.

Moreover, on election days, the Highways Department payroll is expected to "produce" for the party in power. Which it usually does.

Under such conditions the wonder is not that we have occasional scandals but that we do not have more of them. And another wonder is that we have as good a highway system as we have.

But Pennsylvanians should not rest until the Highways Department is no longer a political mechanism. And if it takes some scandal to liberate the department from political manipulation — well, that would be another ill wind blowing some good.

The Lighter Side—

Singer Makes Hit with Dulles Song

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP) —The latest communiques from the Washington chitchat front say there is a new bounce in the step of the secretary of state since an auburn-haired nightclub singer began burdening the airwaves with a song titled "I Made a Fool of Myself Over John Foster Dulles."

The song was written by Ken Welch for Carol Burnett's comedienne stint at the Blue Angel nightclub with the idea of spoofing the teen-age worshipping of rock 'n' roll singers. The pair decided it would be a humorous twist to portray a girl worshipping someone distinguished.

Miss Burnett has had the song in her act for more than a month and has sung it twice on the NBC Tonight show and once on the CBS Ed Sullivan show. After her first broadcast last week, the NBC people got a call from a Dulles aide saying the secretary wanted a recording.

They rushed one, and also did a kinescope of her next TV-cast to send to him. This deathless opus has just been copyrighted by the Ben Bloom Music Corp., and by their special leave, here it is.

From here on, the floor is Miss Burnett's:

(Talks)

It's so nice of you all to come visit me here in prison. I look forward to Friday. . .Friday is visiting day. Would you like to know just why I'm here in prison? I'm here because I'm classified as a threat to the national security. . . top secret. . .first class. . .4-0 . . . double-A. . .and it happened this way:

(Sings)

I made a fool of myself over John Foster Dulles.

Oh, I made a chump of myself over John Foster Dulles

The first time I saw him, 'twas at the UN,

I never had been one to swoon over men,

But I swooned and the drums started pounding and then,

I made a fool of myself over John Foster Dulles.

I knew it was futile to dream for we never could marry,

Still my heart ripped apart at the seam for our state secretary.

The next time I saw him he was flying to Spain;

He waved to someone as he boarded the plane;

"Was it me?" cried my heart, and then I went insane,

And I made a fool of myself over John Foster Dulles.

"Get ahold of yourself," I told myself,

To my heart I said, "Behave."

"Who are you to John Foster Dulles?" I asked my heart,

And it replied, "His slave."

Then in somebody's newspaper column, I think Robert Ruark,

I read that John Foster was due at the airport in Newark.

To Jersey by taxi I made a mad race;

I pushed through the crowd 'til we stood face to face.

I grabbed for his sleeve but I got his briefcase—

At least it was something belonging to John Foster Dulles.

(Talks:) It's so nice of you all to visit me here in prison. With good behavior I should be out, oh, in about seven years. But I'm not un-American and I'm not a spy. But how can I convince the FBI that I'm simply on fire with desire for John Foster Dulles.

Quotes from The News

By UNITED PRESS

NEW YORK — Movie producer-composer Boris Morros, on his 12 years as an American counter-spy:

"I have never been a spy before. I don't know where I found the courage to do it the first time, but believe me, to tell the truth, I don't think I could do it again."

Merry-Go-Round—

Social Life in the Air Force

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When you're in the Army, Navy, or Air Force and receive orders from your commanding officer to attend a social function, you obey. If you also get an order to contribute toward a present for the commander's wife, you also obey. For orders are orders in the armed forces.

Mr. Pearson

However, mandatory social activity and compulsory generosity is not helping morale in armed forces.

Here's an illustration of what happened at Lake Charles Air Force Base, Louisiana, when Col. Robert I. Barrowclough retired as commander of the 68th Bombardment Wing. All officers received a letter from the deputy commander, Col. A. J. Bratton, Jr. It read:

"The 68th Bombardment Wing will sponsor a farewell party for Col. and Mrs. Robert I. Barrowclough on the night of Friday, 19 July, 1957. Each officer of the wing will be charged the following amounts for the party by rank:

"1. Colonels $25; 2. Lt. Colonels $15; 3. Majors $10; 4. Captains $8.50; 5. Lieutenants $7; 6. Warrant Officers $7.

"Each squadron commander is responsible for collecting this amount from each officer in his squadron. This money must be turned in to the wing adutant listed by name not later than 1700 hours, 3 July 57."

It was also explained that the above would include buffet, drinks, entertainment, dancing, and "gift for Mrs. Barrowclough."

The officers went. They contributed. Many of them were strong for the commander and his wife. But they felt a little less so after being required by mandatory order to ante up for their farewell party.

Returning German Property

Every year as Congress is about to adjourn, there's a big push to return German wartime property to Germany. This is because it's sometimes easier to put a bill across during the closing rush of Congress when senators are anxious to go home and will sometimes pass almost anything to get lobbyists and legislation out of their hair.

Right now the pressure boys and "observers" are fluttering around Washington. Two figures are interesting. They are:

1. Hermann Abs, former magaging director of the Deutsche Bank under the Nazi regime of Adolph Hitler, today a director of the Seuddeutsche Bank in Germany. He also heads the "Society to Promote Protection of Foreign Investments" and has been ensconced in a suite at the Carlton Hotel in Washington, carefully eying the congressional scene.

2. Major General Julius Klein, affable, persistent Illinois National Guard officer and onetime commander of the Jewish War Veterans. Klein is working for Abs.

Both Klein and Abs deny that they are lobbying for the return of German property. Klein is especially upset over the fact that his organization, the Jewish War Veterans, has gone on record against the return of alien property seized in this country during the war. Some of its members are now critical of him. He has also protested vigorously against this column's assertion that his German client, Abs, is masterminding the drive to return German property.

Instead of lobbying, Klein and Abs claim they are working for the "general principle" of non-expropriation of property. However, let's take a good look at these two gentlemen and see exactly what they are doing.

$40,000 Plus

General Klein is paid $40,000 plus expenses to work for this "general principle." At first, General Klein did not register with the Justice Department as a foreign agent. He claimed he was working for a German businessman, not for the German government. He also insisted that he was not lobbying for legislation on behalf of his foreign client and demanded an exemption from registration on the grounds that he was just a commercial representative.

The Justice Department, however, took a contrary view. Its representative telephoned General Klein with the friendly suggestion that he register. When Klein appeared reluctant, the Justice Department became firm. As a result, General Klein registered as a foreign agent. There are now no ifs, ands, or buts about it.

Hermann Abs also denies vigorously that he is lobbying for the return of German property. He does argue, however, that unless German assets are returned to Germany, Chancellor Adenauer may lose the election on Sept. 15 and that a new socialist government in Germany would come into power which would pull out of NATO.

This has now become the official view of the State Department. Secretary Dulles, who once acted as the attorney for American bankers when they poured millions of dollars into Germany just before Hitler, has reversed his previous position. He also reversed the Justice Department, which was and still secretly is flatly opposed to the return of German property.

Mr. Abs has now won his point. His next hurdle is the hearing in the House Interstate Commerce Committee where Congressman Peter Mack, Jr., of Illinois, is going to be a tougher obstacle to overcome.

Washington Whirl

Big breezy Sen. Bob Kerr (D., Okla.) tells colleagues about being stopped by a woman who praised him for his statesmanship. Kerr started making modest noises when the woman beamed: "Keep up the good work, Senator Dirksen." . . . . Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.) happens to be a die-hard Republican whose statesmanship runs in an opposite political direction from Kerr's. . . . Kindly Congressman Clarence Cannon (D., Mo.) keeps a bag full of silver dollars in his office, hands them out to children who visit him. . . . Congressman Multer of Brooklyn verbally clobbered GOP Congressman Cramer of Florida in a recent CBS debate over judicial use of the FBI files. . . One of the first things Ambassador Chip Bohlen did on taking over the U. S. Embassy in the Philippines, was arrange for American veterans to remit V. A. checks back to the U. S. A. without benefit of Philippine red tape.

Why Does U. S. Fear Student Exchanges?

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

On one of the most crucial fronts of the cold war the Soviets are clobbering us.

Where we should be winning naturally and magnificently, where all the means of winning are on our side — except that we have temporarily thrown them away — we are losing miserably and unnecessarily.

Mr. Drummond

It's time to do something about it — right now and before Congress adjourns and thereby fumbles the ball.

Something can be done about it. It's not difficult; it is quite simple.

What I am talking about is this:

The Kremlin is successfully picturing the United States around the world today as the one nation unwilling and afraid to engage in a man-for-man, reciprocal exchange of students and specialist groups between the Soviet countries and America.

And is successfully picturing itself as unafraid and eager to let many more American students and specialists into the Soviet Union — if we will reciprocate.

Pictured As Timid

We are pictured as timid, scared to let citizens from Russia and the satellites see the United States and intent upon maintaining an "American iron curtain" against cultural exchange.

They picture themselves as anxious and intent upon extending cultural exchange at every opportunity with America and completely ready to extend reciprocal freedom to travel.

This is a tremendous propaganda victory for the Kremlin.

There are times when the Soviets are going to win a propaganda victory because the advantage may be with their side. But in this instance the advantages belong with the free nations and should and would belong with the United States if we hadn't thus far thrown our advantage away and thrust into the hands of Moscow the very brush with which they are tarring us.

We are just beginning to feel the full effects and see the full consequences of our mistake of imbedding into the Immigration Act the requirement that visitors must give their fingerprnts to the United States Government before we will grant them visas.

And how the Soviets relish it; that is, relish taking advantage of it.

What We Do

Here's what we do for them:

1. We give them the most honey-laden jam-pot of anti-American propaganda conceivable. It is absolutely sure-fire, guaranteed to win converts and influence waverers everywhere. The U. S. makes itself the only nation in the world requiring finger-printing for visas to visit this country. Since we alone impose this requirement, since finger-printing is associated with crime-detection and is abhorrent to many people, particularly giving your fingerprints to a foreign power — Moscow has no trouble convincing much of the world that we are the ones who are against cultural exchange, that we fear having visitors from Communist nations see America and fear having American students, artists, scholars and specialists see the Soviet Union. We lose on this one, have no doubt about it.

2. — Further, we play right into the Kremlin's hands on another point. We put into their hands the device which enables the Soviets to control and restrict the travel of Russians while appearing to put the blame on America. They have no trouble persuading their people that they ought not to yield to American demands to be finger-printed and therefore they ought not to travel to the United States or only those should travel whom the Government encourage to travel.

Give No Excuses

I am by no means certain that the Soviets want to expand cultural contacts with America. It would be to our advantage if they did. We ought to find out and we ought not to give the Kremlin an American-made excuse for restricting the right to come here to a very limited group. The Kremlin may restrict the travel of its nationals, but at least we could take the American label off the restriction.

Why not make one simple, single change in the Immigration Act this month — take out the finger-printing requirement. The President is for this action. So is Secretary Dulles and Attorney General Brownell. Edgar Hoover, Director of the F.B.I., raises no objection. "Mr. Immigration" himself, Rep. Francis Walter of Penna., has proposed it in the past.

Why not do something about it now at this session of Congress?

The Woman's View—

What Secretary Does To Keep Boss Happy

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP) — It takes plenty more than taking dictation to be a capable girl Friday.

A secretary may be required to laugh at her boss's jokes, funny or not; lend him cigarets or money; see that he gets a mid-afternoon snack; dose him with aspirin if all doesn't go well; even do his shopping.

Gay Pauley

These duties above and beyond typing and telephoning came to light at a lunch - time gathering the other day, with 35 secretaries for 35 prominent men and women doing the talking.

Originally the girls gathered to honor Sadie Perlin, executive secretary to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California. Miss Perlin, who has been with Knight ever since his lieutenant governor days, is the 1957 "secretary of the year" selected by Underwood in a poll of 5,000 executives.

Bases Of Judgment

Contestants were judged on tact, personality, appearance, poise and on letters from their employers telling why they should be selected. Miss Perlin's reward: A week in New York. "First time I've been east of the Rockies", she said.

The talk got down to bosses when a thoughtful soul from the typewriter company asked the secretaries to answer a few questions. Included were, "What do you like about your boss?" and "What do you do to keep your boss happy?"

If any secretary loathed the man she worked for, she didn't get a chance to say so. The man from Underwood didn't ask about dislikes, apparently on the assumption a good secretary knows when to keep her mouth shut.

"I like my boss because he's single," said one girl Friday.

Personal Preferences

Others liked their employers' sense of humor, fairness and understanding. "The fact that he lets me do the filing," answered Catherine Parsons, secretary to Julius Rudel of the New York City Opera Co.

To the "What do you do to keep your boss happy" question, one secretary quipped: "I don't try to keep him happy—just guessing."

"Do all, tell nothing and be on time," said Lillian De Gore, who works for comedian Ernie Kovacs.

"Laugh at his jokes," replied Dolores Nycz, whose boss is Jack Barry, quiz show M.C.

"Always have cigarets handy," said Rita Quinn, secretary to Mike Wallace. "He never is supplied."

And, one secretary said she kept the boss on keel "with a double scoop of chocolate ice cream with chocolate syrup every afternoon."

New Youth Group Plans for Outing

Final plans were completed last night by members of the SOYO (Syrian Orthodox Youth Organization) of St. Michael's Syrian Church of Monessen for the first annual picnic. It will be held on Sunday at Kossor's Grove on Route 31, one mile east of West Newton.

The day's activities will begin with the Divine Liturgy outdoors at the park beginning at 10 a. m. with the Rev. John Koury as celebrant.

Syrian entertainment by the Durbukee Trio, of Cleveland, Ohio, has been obtained and will start at 2 p. m.

Guests Invited

Syrian and American food will be served throughout the day. Invitations have been extended to residents of the Tri-State area and in the Monongahela valley area. It is open to the public.

The congregation of St. Michael's is comprised of members from Monessen, Charleroi, Donora, Monongahela, Belle Vernon and Bentleyville.

Louise Davis and George Essey are directing plans for the activity. Miss Davis, of Bentleyville, is general picnic chairman and Mr. Essey, of Belle Vernon, is chairman of all food committees.

The Syrian Orthodox Youth Organization is a nation wide organization. The Monessen chapter is associated with the Eastern Federation, and was only recently organized.

New Organization

Norman Nami, of Monongahela City, is president with Loretta Anthony, of Belle Vernon, as vice president. Other officers are Louise Davis, corresponding secretary; Germaine David, of Bentleyville, recording secretary; Mrs. Marion Hoffman, of Monessen, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Zdilla, of Monessen, chaplain. Father Koury serves as spiritual adviser.

The purpose of the organization is to provide a religious program for the young people in the Syrian churches, and to secure the aid of the youth groups in the growth of the church. The picnic planned by the local group will kick off a campaign for funds needed for a remodeling project at the church.

Two Observances Are Marked by The Malinchaks

Walter Michael Malinchak, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Malinchak, of 31 Moffet St., was baptized on Sunday at noon at St. Nicholas Ukrainian Church.

The Rev. Michael A. Yarosh, pastor, officiated at the baptismal service.

Godparents for the baby were Nancy Szabo, of Monessen, a sister of the mother of the baby and Frank Lexie, Jr., of Castle Shannon, nephew of the father.

Dinner was served in the afternoon at the Malinchak home. Later relatives and friends were received informally during the evening. Buffet refeeshments were served.

Walter Michael was the recipient of many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Malinchak have another child, Vickie Jean, who observed her birthday during Sunday's celebration, though her birthday was the day preceding.

A birthday cake decorated in pink and green and inscribed "Happy Birthday Vicki" centered the refreshment table. She also received gifts.

Arison Family Will Have Annual Reunion

Plans have been announced for the annual reunion of the Arison family on Saturday at Dunn's Grove and Curfew Grange Hall at Flatwoods. A picnic dinner will be served at noon.

Games and entertainment will be featured during the afternoon. After the serving of supper there will be round and square dancing in the evening.

Simon Arison is president of the family and Robert Hoyack is secretary.

Dunn's Grove is located on Route 71 about three miles off Route 51.

Luncheon was served, and Mabel Popp was named next hostess.

Clifford-Gracon Nuptials Are Announced Here

Solemnized in the presence of their families was the marriage of Mrs. Oma Gardner Clifford and Peter Gracon, both of Cleveland, Ohio. They were married in the Winnett Methodist Church parsonage of Smithton.

Vows were exchanged on Saturday, Aug. , at 10 a. m. The Rev. Anna B. Potter officiated.

The bride was attired in a mint green taffeta ensemble with white accessories. Her two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Clayton Clifford, of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Vernon Clifford, of Homestead, were attendants. They also wore mint green.

Clayton Clifford, son of the bride, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Gracon will reside in Cleveland.

Blanche Wolski Becomes Bride of Harry L. McCann

Solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 10, was the marriage of Blanche Wolski and Harry L. McCann. The nuptial vows were exchanged at St. Jerome Roman Catholic Church of Charleroi before the Rev. James McKeever.

Vases of gladiolus and cibodium fern decorated the altar for the service, which was followed by the celebration of a nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wolski, of Lookout Ave., Charleroi. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Joseph Anderson and the late Harry L. McCann.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of imported embroidered chiffon de soie over taffeta. It was fashioned with a sabrina neckline, cape sleeves and a fitted bodice with a row of matching buttons down the back. She wore matching mitts and a veil of imported silk illusion. Her full skirt was styled in tiers and was chapel length. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Norman Check, of Whiteboro, N. Y., was matron of honor. She wore a waltz length dress in blue and white marquisette over taffeta. It was styled with a scoop neckline, fitted bodice, poudre blue cummerbund and a tiered skirt. She wore a band of ivy in her hair and carried a cascase arrangement of ivy and blue asters.

Linda Pellicano and Sophie Wolski, another sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore ensembles styled like that chosen by the honor attendant.

Flower Girl

Krisey Check served as flower girl for her aunt. She wore a waltz length dress of white and pink organdy over taffeta. She carried a miniature bouquet of pink asters and ivy.

The bridegroom had asked his brother-in-law, Norman Check, to be best man. Ushers were Donald McCann, brother of the bridegroom, and R. William Bosson.

Mrs. Wolski wore a rose lace dress for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white asters. The mother of the bridegroom wore blue chiffon and taffeta with blue accessories and a corsage of pink asters.

Hold Reception

A wedding breakfast was served at the Charleroi Elks Club, and later a reception was held there. Reception aides were Mrs. John Rudd, of McKeesport, Mrs. Frank Swanson, of Charleroi, and Mrs. Walter Kelm, of Monessen, who presided at the tea table.

After a wedding trip the couple will live at 611 Meadow Ave., Charleroi.

The evening before the wedding the mother of the bridegroom entertained at a rehearsal party.

Tri-Cities Club Is Entertained At Fuoco Home

Mrs. Beatrice Fuoco, of Washington Ave., Charleroi, was hostess to members of the Tri-Cities Club at her home recently.

Cards were the diversion and those receiving high score awards were Mrs. Betty Markham, Mrs. Eileen Kimmell and Mrs. Theresa Tomovchik, of North Charleroi, and Mrs. Fuoco.

Guests for the evening were Jay Disclafane and Mrs. Sally DelCas.

During a business session plans were made for the group to hold a covered dish picnic at Monessen Park today, the next regular meeting of the club was scheduled for Aug. 21, at the home of Mrs. Betty Markham.

St. Leonard Ladies Guild Plans Outing

Plans have been completed for the annual picnic to be held by the Ladies Guild of St. Leonard R. C. Church at City Park on Tuesday, Aug. 20. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock according to an announcement by Lucy Kasper, general picnic chairman.

Those planning to attend are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Evelyn Niehaus at MU 4-7040, Mrs. Elizabeth Hricko at MU 4-5361 or Mrs. Margaret Venneri at MU 4-6062. All reservations must be made by Friday, Aug. 16.

'Towney' Plans to Turn to Authoring

S. S. Townsend, the recently retired West Newton principal, plans to write two books on sports in the months ahead. One will deal with his experiences as a football-basketball coach, including his seven year stay at Monessen High back in the late teens and early twenties. The other book will outline Townsend's coaching philosophy . . . Incidentally Townsend is quite proud of his Monessen record. MHS cage teams of that era were practically unbeatable and his football creations lost just four games in seven years.

The ring is in excellent shape according to Ready, and ideal for youth organizations or boxing clubs . . . Speaking of boxing, did you know, or remember that Joe Louis kayoed no less than six heavyweight title holders when Joe was in his prime. His victims were Jack Sharkey, Max Schmeling, Primo Carnera, Max Baer, Jimmy Braddock and Jersey Joe Walcott.

Unique Accomplishment for Add Spragg

When J. Add Spragg, of Nemacolin Country Club, copped the Washington-Greene County golf title at Monongahela Valley Country Club Sunday he accomplished a unique feat. Tw years ago Spragg won the same title but that time he was a member of the Mon Valley Club. Both times, however, he won on the MVCC course. Another distinction he holds is that of having alternated with Andy Tokar for the title every year since 1952 except for '54 when Leonard Sasso copped the crown. Spragg's Mon Valley win in 1955 is the only victory for that course since 1947 . . . Mains, Perryopolis High head grid mentor, will guide the Fayette Countians assisted by Lou Rozzi, head coach at German Township and Charles (Chuck) Slick, Brownsville backfield tutor.

Italian Hall, Cro-Am Teams Win in City Softball League

Ral Sekoski's brilliant four-hit pitching propelled the Italian Hall softballers into third place in the local City League last night topping MPSA, 9-3 in the first game of a twin bill. The second game found the Cro-Ams topping the Ravens, 18-6

In the initial tilt, Sekoski scored all of its runs in the first four innings, two in each of the first three frames and three more in the fourth. MPSA tallied twice in the third on homers by Harrison Spencer and Willie Bronson. A walk, an error and a sacrifice fly produced the final marker in the fifth.

Walt Boord with three hits, including a double, Ray Johnson and Paul Pacak with two singles apiece paced the Hallers to victory while Bronson and Spencer looked best for the losers

The Cro-Ams-Ravens game was cut to six innings by darkness and the Ravens were undoubtedly glad as the final count was 18-6.

A big fourth inning in which nine runs crossed the plate broke the game wide open Harpo Selelyo's three-run homer featured the nine-run assault.

Tony Crisi with a double and three singles, Ears Rusnak with three singles and Selelyo with a homer and two singles were top hitters for the winners Jim Cherocci had two safe blows for the best Ravens effort

Action continues tonight with PNA vs. ULBA in the first tilt and Myfords vs. MPSA in the second contest

Donora Nine Gains Berth in World Series Play

DONORA, August 14 — Donora became the first team to qualify for the PONY League World Series last night, with an 8 to 6 victory over New Kensington

Donora will represent Region 2 in the sixth annual boys baseball classic, which opens in Washington August 26 Donora wil be the fourth County team to compete in the Series and has a chance to become the third to win the national title

Monongahela won the Series in 1954 and Washington took honors in 1955

Good pitching by Elmer Palm hurling his first tournament game, helped Donora to last night's victory the second straight in the best-of-three series

Palm held New Kensington to six hits for six innings, but ran into trouble with two out in the seventh when the visitors scored four runs

After New Kensington scored in the fourth on a homer by Zergel, with Donora leading 5-1, Donora came back with two more wins in the last of the fourth on consecutive doubles by Chuck Zolak, Tony Greco and Junick.

Junick drove in another run in the fifth on a single and a two-run homer by Paul Tonnecz gave Donora the winning margin in the sixth

After the game, Zergel was awarded a trophy as the leading hitter in the Donora-New Kensington series.

New Eagle Surprises Fayette City Again, 4-2

Furiga Blanks Legionnaires Until Two Homers in Final Frame for Win

New Eagle went two-up on Fayette City in their Mon Valley League best-of-five series with a 4-2 decision at New Eagle last night.

Frank Valla and Roger Hough combined to toss a five-hitter at Fayette City but it wasn't enough as Vic Furiga scattered six safe blows except for the seventh when the two Legionnaire markers crossed the plate.

Steve Lomago put New Eagle ahead with a homer in the second and the host team jumped the margin to 2-0 when Gerlack doubled, was sacrificed to third and scored on a single by Joe Reale, and Jess Leach.

Building its lead to 4-0 New Eagle iced the game in the fifth when Reale singled, and scored on Fred Cox' triple. Cox later tallying on a Fayette City error.

Both Fayette City runs came on homers by Tucker Ceaschi and Tom Parks in the last frame

The Legionnaires are fighting desperately to snap a late-season slump which saw them very nearly lose the first place hold they held practically the entire season.

Tonight Charleroi is at Perryopolis in the second game of the five-game series with Perry leading the series, 1-0, while Fayette City and New Eagle try it again at Fayette City tomorrow night.

Chomko Resigns As 'Hound Aide; Surprise Move

Monessen High School was looking for a new assistant coach today following the resignation of Nick Chomko, aide to head coach Armand Niccolai for two years

Chomko handed in his resignation in a surprise move at last night's school board meeting.

Superintendent of Monessen School's Dr. Joseph Pallone said the move came "as a complete surprise."

Nothing was learned of Chomko's immediate plans.

The former standout Monessen High end, later starred for Duquesne U. before the Dukes dropped football He was an outstanding gridder both in high school and college.

In addition to assisting Niccolai with the varsity here, Chomko also assisted with the coaching of one of the Midget teams here.

Other sports action by the school board last night was the approving of the complimentary ticket list for '57 using the same method of distribution as last season and the appointing of the city firemen to have full control of the stadium during grid games.

The local Midget League was also given permission to use the stadium for the first game the first week in September. Formerly the Midgets opened after the first MHS game but this season the first high school tilt is not until September 27.

Two Days For Grid Exams at Rostraver

Physical examinations for Rostraver high school gridders were announced for Thursday and Friday of this week, by Athletic Director James Weir.

The examinations will be given beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning by Dr Eugene O'Leary, of Monessen, Rostraver school physician, at the LaGrange School

Baker-Silko Duo Cops City Tennis Doubles Honors

James Baker and Buzzy Silko reigned as doubles champions in the local City Tennis Tourney today after a thrilling and skill-displaying 6-3, 10-8 rally victory over the Thompson-Szypanski team.

Last evening was a record-setting one for Jim Baker. His and Silko's victory entitled him to a trophy, awarded by American Legion Post 28, his fourth in city tournament play. Baker had previously earned the title in each of the following divisions Boy's Singles; Baker-Cherkin Boys' Doubles; Men's Singles.

This evening at 6 p.m. two women's teams will compete for the title — Carol Zoretich, Lucille Musial vs. Mary Katsuleris and partner unknown as yet.

Bellmar Equipment Issuance Tomorrow

Bellmar High grid coach Bap Manzini has announced that football togs will be issued grid candidates at Marion Junior High School Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Manziri and his aides will issue the equipment at that time.

Physicals will be given by Dr. Vince Bolton, of Monessen, at a date to be announced.

Frick Relives Memories Of Years in Press Box

By FORD C. FRICK
Commissioner Of Baseball

NEW YORK (UP)—It is a pleasant feeling to again sit down at the typewriter to turn out a newspaper story, and even more wonderful are the memories that come racing back from the days when I did it every day.

They were wonderful days, and it seems hard to believe that more than 30 years have passed since I came east from Colorado Springs to write for the New York Journal.

How well I remember the first World Series game I covered, the Yankees and the Giants playing in the brand-new Yankee Stadium. They came into the last inning tied 4-4, and then a light-hearted, young Giant outfielder hit a home run off Joe Bush to bring McGraw's team a victory. The sight of that fellow joyously running the bases I will never forget. Nor will anyone who saw Charles Dillon Stengel beat the Yankees on that October afternoon.

Also, I recall the many fabulous stories I had heard in the West of the Washington fireball pitcher, Walter Johnson. I had my misgivings that anyone could be that kind of pitcher. I remember the first time I saw him pitch, which was also the day my skepticism vanished.

Days With McGraw

The pleasant memories of the days when my assignment was the Giants, a rollicking crew under the fabulous John McGraw. And the big kick that came when I would watch that fine left-hander Artie Nehf, against whom I had batted while in college. And, later, Herman Bell and Eddie Pick, both of whom I played against in the Colorado Springs City League

I can still see the line drives jumping from the bat of wonderful Zach Wheat, truly a great ball player. Zach, today, in my number one choice for election to baseball's Hall of Fame.

I remember vividly sitting in the press box in what was then Navin Field in Detroit watching a little boy on a bicycle pedal furiously down the street in pursuit of a ball that Babe Ruth had belted far out of the park, one of the longest blows I have ever seen

Had Many Thrills

The thrills that came to me in press boxes were many. A relentless Jack Dempsey furiously flailing at the giant Luis Angel Firpo, in one of the most exciting fights in history..the magnificent Zev, with the great Earl Sande on his back, charging down the stretch at Belmont to beat a fine race horse, Papyrus, in a race that those who saw it will never forget. the International Cup polo matches when the American public gave such a tremendous welcome to the young man who was then known as the Prince of Wales, later as Edward VII, and now as the Duke of Windsor. The courtesy wasn't carried on by the teams, however, and Tommy Hitchcock, Dev Milburn & Co soundly trounced the Britons... a rainy day in Philadelphia when a capacity crowd thought it would be impossible to see anything finer than the wonderful U. of Illinois band, but the fans and the Penn Football team were both treated to a masterful exhibition by a young man from Illinois They didn't need to see the famous "77" on his back to know he was the great "Red" Grange

The memories are both many and pleasant. They were wonderful days, spent watching wonderful athletes, and in the company of wonderful fellows.

I hope that Oscar Fraley has as much fun on his vacation as I have had thinking back to those glorious days in the press box Thanks, Oscar.

Rademacher May Not Make Nickle In Attempt to Win Heavy Title

Second of Four Dispatches
By WILLIAM J. TUCKER

COLUMBUS, Ga (UP)—He's going in the fight an amateur, and he may come out one, too

For win, lose or draw, Pete Rademacher may not make a nickel in his attempt to win the world's heavyweight boxing championship from poker-faced Floyd Patterson

He's the last guy on the payroll —a payroll with a minimum of $250 000 That quarter of a million is what his friends had to put up to give him a shot at boxing's greatest—and richest—title

"I didn't make this match with an eye toward making a profit," Rademacher explains.

"I'll be lucky to come out even If there is anything left for me it will be divided 50-50 with Youth Unlimited Inc., at Columbus"

It's this Youth Unlimited that makes this title fight at Seattle, Wash., on the night of Aug. 22, possible.

The story goes back to May, 1956

Rademacher was a lieutenant in the Army, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

Interested In Youth

Because he was interested in working with youth, "to try to get the kids off the street," he became acquainted with M. C. (Mike) Jennings, a youthful looking man at 45.

Jennings came here after World War II from Pittsburgh, Pa., where he is reported to have made a small fortune in the oil business. Here on the banks of the Chattahoochee River, Jennings married the daughter of Curtis Jordan Jr., a big construction and real estate man in this city of 80,000, and opened a sporting goods business

He enjoys tremendous respect in Columbus because he has been on radio and TV for some time with outdoor programs accenting youth, getting them off the streets and into the streams and woods

His youth work took him to Fort Benning one day and he met Rademacher.

"Pete and I talked about a venture like Youth Unlimited from the first," Jennings says. "The plan evolved, and finally Pete said when he was training here for the Olympics:

"'I hope I do all right in the Olympics and meet a Russian in the finals so I can knock his head off. Then I want to try for the world's heavyweight championship.'"

"At the time he made that statement, I thought 'well, that's a pretty ambitious program' and sort of dismissed the idea.

"When Pete got back from the Olympics — with the championship—he still had that in mind and we talked some more.

"I told him, 'Pete, you don't want to go into this professional boxing if you want to continue this youth work. You're valuable to people now, but if you go into that you'll gradually get all shaken up.'

"But we kept on talking and about May 17 we decided to try it.

"I started moving around. I went to New York City and met Cus D'Amato (Patterson's manager). He said he wanted a $250,000 guarantee for the fight from Rademacher and gave me two weeks to raise the money.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Putting Defensive

Putting has its defensive angle, too. While some putts call for all-out concentration on getting the ball in the hole in a single stroke, others may call for the possibility of three-putting.

If the green is slick and fast or the putt is strongly downhill, you must sacrifice a part of your chance to hole the first putt in order to make your second putt shorter and easier.

The situation will generally make it quite clear which course you should pursue. If the putt is for a halve in match play, obviously you may as well forget everything but trying to get it into the hole. But where the putt is for a win in match play, don't forget that if you miss, the next one will be for a tie. Giving a man a win by three-putting from fairly close will add much to his confidence — will take much from yours.

And in medal play, always keep this defensive angle to putting in mind.

MVCC Two-Ball Foursome Set For Sunday Date

A mixed two-ball foursome has been set for Monongahela Valley Country Club on Sunday, August 19.

Approximately 30 Pittsburgh district clubs are expected to be represented at the affair which will begin at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

A buffet lunch will be served on the lawn near the club house providing the weatherman cooperates.

Play will continue until 6 o'clock in the evening with awards planned for winners of each event.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Williams of Monessen and Mr. and Mrs. William Pollock of Donora are co-chairmen of the event.

Prospective entries are urged to register as soon as possible so that pairings can be made, Pro Frank Bruno announced.

Moore - Quijano In Feather Bout

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—The featherweight champion of Mexico tonight joins the mob chasing Hogan (Kid) Bassey's world title.

But Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, whose main objective in life now is to lead that mob, hopes to end victor Manuel Quijano's American campaign at the outset. Both agree their 10-round bout in the War Memorial auditorium here determines their future.

Moore, favored 3 to 1 by the odds, has a record of 25 wins, five losses and one draw. The 23-year-old Moore is a former (1952) Olympic finalist and an AAU title-holder.

Quijano has a 60-10-7 record. But few of the fights have been witnessed by American fans. He's considered pretty much of an unknown quantity.

New Bellmar Coach's Successor Appointed

Wellsville High School, Wellsville, O., has named a successor to Tom Healy, newly named head basketball coach at Bellmar High School.

Jack McDevitt, Healey's assistant for two years, will succeed Healey, with Carl Firm, former Toronto High (Ohio) grid and cage player as McDevitt's assistant.

Healey was also named assistant football coach at Bellmar under Coach Bap Manzini.

Friend Terrific in 6-0 Victory Over Phillies; Allows Two Hits

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates gave the fizzling Phillies a rousing "homecoming" Tuesday night by blanking the home team, 6-0.

Bob Friend scattered two singles in chalking up his eighth win against 15 losses while Warren Hacker lost his sixth in 10 decisions. No Phillies player reached second base in the opening game of a 15-game homestand.

Bill Mazeroski supplied the big punch in the Pirate attack, clouting a two-run homer in the second and doubling home two more runs in the seventh.

Mazeroski homered after Bob Skinner walked, stole second and advanced on a wild throw by Stan Lopata. Frank Thomas drew a walk in the seventh, advanced on a single by Gene Freese and both came home when Mazeroski slammed a double into the bullpen.

The Bucs wound up the scoring in the eighth off reliever Dick Farrell. Dick Groat singled and took second on another bad throw by Lopata. Then Skinner bunted, and Groat scored when shortstop Granny Hamner threw into the stands. Hank Foiles scores Skinner with a single to the left.

Marchibroda to Start at QB Against Bears

OLEAN N.Y. (UP)—Coach Walt Kiesling today selected Ted Marchibroda to start at quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers when they meet the Chicago Bears in an exhibition game Saturday night.

"The team goes a bit better with Ted than with Jack Scarbath, although the latter has displayed a lot of improvement this year," Kiesling said.

Veteran end Bill McPeak, who is now a player-coach, injured an ankle Tuesday and will probably miss the game with the Bears in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Kiesling said rookie Bill Michael of Ohio State would probably repace McPeak. He said Michae's work in scrimmage since he returned from the All-Star game has been outstanding.

The Steeler coach also singled out rookie quarterback Len Dawson of Purdue for his work to date. Others mentioned as doing an outstanding job were rookie tackle Don Owens of Mississippi Southern, Dick Hughes of Tulsa and Ralph Jelic of Pitt.

The Steelers will leave their training camp here Friday morning to fly to Jacksonville. A work out has been scheduled for Friday night in the Gator Bowl.

Jay Peake Gains Top Honors in Archery Tourney

Jay Peake, of the Charleroi Archery Club took top honors in the distinctive class in field-round competition at the national field archery tournament in Watkins Glen, N. Y. yesterday.

Peake, an 18-year-old member of the Charleroi Archery Club, won the men's instinctive title in the expert bowman class with a score of 886. This class, with a theoretical maximum score of 1,120, is considered the toughest competition of all events.

In instinctive shooting no sights may be used. In other divisions sights are allowed.

Parra Confident Of Chestnut Win

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Ernesto Parra, recovered from a cold which caused a week's delay in his bout wit' Ike Chestnut, said today he was confident he would upset the 2-1 favored featherweight in their 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Parra, 24, looked sharp in drills after his illness. Veteran trainer Johnny Villafores said Parra had the rugged, busy stye to upset the third-ranked New York fighter.

Chestnut, despite the fact he scored an eighth-round kayo over Kid Anahuac, is not renowned as a puncher. He has stopped only three men in 38 professional bouts. But one of his victims was Carmelo Costa, who is fourth-ranked. Ike also has been in tougher company than Parra.

LIONS HONOR STAGG

STOCKTON, Calif. (UP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who'll be 95 on Friday, was honored by the local Lions club Tuesday. Stagg, currently football coach at the College of the Pacific and football's "Grand Old Man," was presented with a seven foot high cake in the form of a football.

Jaycee All-Star Tilt Ends in 14-14 Deadlock

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Allegheny County high school All-Stars battled their Western Pennsylvania counterparts to a 14-14 tie Tuesday night in the 10th annual Junior Chamber of Commerce football game.

Sportswriters at the game, featuring stars who were graduated this year, named Joe Drake, New Kensington, as most valuable player.

Jaycee starlet Jackie Thurston, of North Allegheny High School, Allegheny County, was selected queen and reigned at special half-time ceremonies at the Forbes Field contest.

(Two Monessen originals competed for the queen title — Darlene Johnson of Belle Vernon, and Donna Bost of Monessen).

West Penn started the scoring when Quarterback Dick Hoak of Jeannette smashed over from the six yard line in the first period. James Cunningham of Connellsville kicked the extra point to put his team ahead 7-0.

Allegheny County tied the score in the third quarter when Quarterback Sandy Dempsey, of Mount Lebanon, tossed a 24-yard pass to Gary Gilbert, of Shaler, in the end zone.

Nick Maravich of Scott Township place-kicked the extra point.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, West Penn's Drake broke loose for a 59-yard touchdown run. Cunningham again converted.

Allegheny County came back with a 63-yard drive and Dempsey sneaked over from the one. Maravich converted to end the scoring.

Majors' Home Run Production Falls Off This Season

NEW YORK (UP) — Major league home run production is off 6.18 per cent this year with only six of the 16 teams showing an increase over their totals at a corresponding point of the 1956 season.

A United Press survey revealed today that the National League's sluggers have hit 4.4 per cent fewer homers this year and that American League home run output is off 8.2 per cent. The figures are based on 441 games played in the NL and 439 in the AL both this season and last.

The league - leading Milwaukee Braves, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Giants show increases in the National League but only the Kansas City Athletics and Boston Red Sox are hitting more homers than last year in the AL.

The Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs top the majors with 136 home runs each. That figure represents an increase of eight homers for the Braves compared to their first 110 games in 1956 while it means a loss of 22 for the Redlegs, who hit 158 in their first 110 games last year.

The most amazing increase in the majors has been accomplished by the Athletics, who have increased their home run production by 55 per cent. In 108 games last season the Athletics hit only 79 homers—45 fewer than they hit in their first 108 games this year!

The world champion New York Yankees — long synonomous with the home run—have dropped off a surprising 24 2 per cent in homer production. They had hit 149 in 113 this year for the same num-110 games last year but show only ber of games. At that, the Athletics are the only team which has hit more.

Kunsa, Dacko Teams Tuesday Winners

Betty Kunsa and Ann Dacko saw their teams win decisions over the Julia Dacko and Julia Carcella entries in the Tuesday Niter Bowling League last night.

Top scorers were: Julie Carcella, 129-392; Julia Dacko, 160-406; Ann Dacko, 122-329; and Betty Kunsa, 127-367

Standings show: Betty Kunsa, 19-14; Ann Dacko, 18-15; Julia Carcella, 18-15 and Julia Dacko, 11-22.

Mantle Wins First Round of Batting Battle with Williams

By MILTON RICHMAN

Mickey Mantle won the first round in his private batting battle with Ted Williams and wound up knocking out the Red Sox at the same time

Mantle, bent on retaining his American League batting crown, enjoyed a perfect night Tuesday night as he collected three hits in as many times up and drove in all of the Yankees' runs in a 3-2 victory over Boston.

Mickey's performance, which included his 32nd homer and a pair of singles, raised his batting average five points to .384. He still trailed Williams, who boosted his league - leading mark one point to .388 with a single and two walks in four trips.

Big Frank Sullivan was the victim of Mantle's homer which came in the eighth inning with one on and wiped out Boston's 2-1 lead. The blow not only enabled Mantle to take over the league leadership in runs batted in with a total of 83, but also helped the Yanks retain their 5½ game lead. It marked Mickey's first homer in Boston this season.

Sturdivant Wins Tenth

Tom Sturdivant scattered seven hits in registering his 10th victory although southpaw Bobby Shantz was called in to nail down the final out.

Jim Rivera drove in five runs with a pair of homers to lead the White Sox to a 10-5 triumph over the Indians; Billy Gardner's second homer of the game with one on in the ninth gave Baltimore a 5-3 victory over Washington, and Kansas City scored a 14-inning 3-2 victory over Detroit in the nightcap of a day-night doubleheader after the Tigers won the opener, 3-1.

The Milwaukee Braves reeled off their eighth straight victory and stretched their National League lead to 6½ games with a 12-4 decision over Cincinnati. The Giants defeated the Dodgers, 4-2; Bob Friend of the Pirates pitched a two-hitter in beating the Phillies, 6-0, and the Cubs snapped a three-game losing streak with a 6-2 victory over the Cardinals.

Pierce Registers 16th

Southpaw Billy Pierce was supported by an 11-hit attack that included four homers as he registered his 16th victory even though he needed relief from Gerry Staley in the eighth inning. In addition to the pair of homers by Rivera, Sherm Lollar and Walt Dropo also connected for Chicago to hand Ray Narleski his first defeat since he became a starter on July 4.

Gardner connected for his game-winning homer off reliever Joe Black after having hit an earlier homer off Russ Kemmerer in the seventh inning as the Senators dropped their fourth straight game. Bob Nieman also homered for the Orioles. Connie Johnson went the route for Baltimore, scattering 10 hits for his 10th triumph.

Al Kaline's two homers paced the Tigers to their opening game victory over the Athletics. Paul Foytack, lifted in the eighth inning after Lou Skizas' homer, won his 13th game as Kansas City's fourth-game winning streak came in an end.

Hector Lopez' 14th inning pinch single gave the Athletics the nightcap triumph. Lopez' hit came off Jim Bunning, Detroit's fourth pitcher, but rookie Bob Shaw was the loser. Tom Morgan gained his eighth victory of the year and third in four days. Kaline and Skizas homered again in the nightcap, and Vic Power also hit a homer.

Lew Burdette batted in four runs with two home runs to help the Braves gain their 12th victory in 14 meetings with the Redlegs this year. Both of Burdette's homers came off loser Joe Nuxhall, the second homer coming with two men on in the sixth inning to break a 4-4 tie. Red Schoendienst and George Crowe also hit homers.

Ruben Gomez of the Giants pitched no-hit ball over the last six innings to beat the Dodgers for the third time this season and score his 13th victory of the campaign. The Giants knocked out starter Sal Maglie in the third inning and then snapped a string of 13 2-3 consecutive scoreless relief innings by Ed Roebuck when they pushed over two runs in the fifth inning. Charley Neal homered for the Brooks.

Bill Mazeroski hit a two-run homer for the Pirates and drove in a total of four runs to help Friend post his eighth victory against 15 defeats. The only hits Friend allowed were Granny Hamner's single in the third inning and Harry Anderson's single in the eighth. Warren Hacker was the loser.

Rescued Mountain Climber Tells Story

By CLAUDIO CORTI
As Told To United Press

EDITOR'S NOTE: Claudio Corti, a 23-year-old Italian chauffeur, was the only survivor among four men who tried to scale the "wall of death" on Switzerland's Eiger Mountain. In the following dispatch dictated from a hospital bed he tells of his eight-day ordeal and his dramatic rescue.

INTERLAKEN, Switzerland (UP)—I have just lived through eight days of snowy hell—eight days and nights on the Eiger north wall in the Alps.

Few men, perhaps fortunately, taste such adventure—of climbing into the unknown, reaching the point of no return, sudden realization that one is lost and finally the agonizing happiness of rescue.

But of all the memories, two others mean the most.

One is a strange one. It is that I never got to speak to two of the men with whom I shared nearly a week on this wall of death, and who now are dead. They spoke only German and I spoke only Italian.

We shared life and, almost, death—but only through sign language.

The other memory is one of vast sadness.

For five years I searched for a partner to take with me on the Eiger climb. But now he too is dead, my friend Stefano Longhi. My survival seems almost unfair, for I am a bachelor and Stefano left a wife and children.

I am happy to have survived without permanent injury because it will be easier for me to help care for them.

Although I am dictating this from a hospital bed in Interlaken I won't say that I'm through wth climbing. As far back as I can remember I have loved the mountains. But now I have had enough—for the time being.

I am a chauffeur by trade from Lecco, in Como Province. I have lived near the mountains all my 29 years.

My biggest wish always was to scale the north wall of Eiger. I think I was well prepared to try.

Before primitive men learned to write, they used knotted cords for keeping records.

Russia Closes Off Pacific Port to Screen Activities

WASHINGTON (UP) — Russia has closed the wide area of Peter the Great bay off Vladivostok in order to screen military activities, experts said today.

Vladivostok is the chief Pacific naval base for the Soviet Union. Many of Russia's 500 submarines are reported to be operating out of it in Pacific waters.

Experts said there are indications the Russians are building up their Pacific naval forces headquartered at Vladivostok and are taking measures to protect the area from observation.

The United States made public Tuesday a strong protest to Moscow against what it called the "unlawful" Soviet Action closing the 115-mile-wide, 55-mile-long bay to navigation by foreign ships and foreign planes. The Soviet Council of Ministers on July 20 said Soviet permission would have to be obtained prior to any future sea-air entry into the area.

Farming Needs College Graduates

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) —Delegates to the state's 33rd annual 4-H Club Week were told today that the eight major fields of agriculture could employ 15,000 college graduates each year.

Dean Lyman E. Jackson of the College of Agriculture, Penn State University said 25 million persons currently are working in some field of agriculture — 10 million on farms, 6 million producing for or serving farmers and 9 million processing and distilling farm products.

Lyman also revealed that 250,000 scientists directly service agriculture.

He emphasized the growing scope of farming in the United States by reporting that every student who attends Penn State takes at least one course in agriculture.

Held for Sale of Cigarettes Bearing Counterfeit Stamps

HARRISBURG (UP)—A Lewisburg cigarette vendor today was scheduled to appeal a 30-day suspension imposed for selling cigarettes bearing counterfeit state tax stamps.

Harry T. Beck, owner of the Beck Amusement Co. and Union County Coroner, was to appear before a three-man board in the state Revenue Department. Involved are state cigarette licenses held by Beck including a $50-a-year wholesale permit and $1 permits on each of his 140 vending machines.

The suspension, originally to take effect Aug. 5, was postponed last month and a final appeal set at the suggestion of Stephen B. Narin, state assistant attorney general.

The board, headed by Walter J. Rothensies, director of the Revenue Department's investigations and collection bureau, has the power to remove the suspension, increase or reduce its length or revoke Beck's licenses. Beck challenged the suspension, contending it would drive him out of business.

The hearing stemmed from the arrest of Ralph L. Bogle, Milton, on charges of counterfeiting cigarette stamps. The department said Beck and W. A. Dehart, a Milton cigarette wholesaler, purchased illegal cigarettes from Bogle. Dehart did not appeal the 30-day suspension against him.

Beck has testified that he removed the illegal cigarettes from his machines last April following an investigation by the department. However, he said they were inadvertently put back into the machines in July by a new employe who was unaware they had been put aside for pickup by the department.

"Never at any time did I ever know of purchasing illegal cigarettes," Beck testified.

Following today's review of testimony in the case, the board said it would make a final decision some time next week.

Palace Officials Deny Grace Is Expecting

MONACO (UP)—Palace officials today laughed off rumors that the marriage of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier is in difficulties after 15 months. They also denied reports Monaco was broke and they knew nothing of reports Grace was buying maternity dresses.

The first rumor started when Princess Grace began taking a companion along whenever she visited friends. The rumors said she did so because the Prince was "suspicious and tyrannical."

For a member of royalty to be accompanied when appearing in public "is a long established custom among the ruling families of the world," one palace official said.

He said it was true the former movie star is no longer seen alone on the streets of Monte Carlo as she was at first, but he said the greetings of enthusiastic Monegasques made it impossible for her to walk ten feet without being stopped.

She often shops alone in the nearby French city of Nice, he said.

A financial expert also laughed at rumors the Monaco government coffers are empty, or had to be filled by shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis or even by Grace's father, Philadelphia contractor John B. Kelly.

He said that Monaco has been in excellent financial and economic shape since 1950.

Didn't Like His Stay in Jail

CHICAGO (UP) — Patrick Duddleston, 19, told the judge what he learned during five days in county jail awaiting a hearing on drunken driving charges.

"The beds were hard, the food poor, the language of the prisoners filthy, and there were no towels or soap to wash with," Duddleston complained.

Star Has Baby

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP)—Screen star Marisa Pavan, wife of actor Jean Pierre Aumont, Tuesday gave birth to a seven-pound son at St. John's Hospital. It was the couple's first child. Miss Pavan, twin sister of actress Pier Angeli, and Aumont were married in March, 1956.

To Shelve Postal Increase

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration bill boosting postal rates appeared headed today for a Senate shelf.

The half-billion dollar bill sailed through the House Tuesday night on a roll call vote of 256-129.

But its chances of getting through the Senate this year were considered to be almost zero.

The bill would boost the cost of mailing first class mail one penny. A four cent stamp on regular mail, a seven - cent stamp on airmail and a three - cent stamp on postcards. Second, third and fourth class mail rates also would go up.

House passage of the bill was a victory for President Eisenhower. Backers said the big margin of votes in favor of the bill meant it has a good chance of Senate passage next year.

Foes of the bill continued to assail it.

Rep. Barrett O'Hara (D-Ill.) suggested that a new four cent stamp be issued bearing a picture of a pirate's flag.

Other congressional news:

Foreign Aid: — The Senate passed the compromise $3,366,000,000 foreign aid bill and sent it to the House. A bill to provide the cash for the program must be passed later. More cuts are expected.

Nominations: The Senate moved toward a final vote on two controversial Eisenhower nominations: Jerome K. Kuykendall for another term on the Federal Power Commission and Dr. Don Parlberg as assistant secretary of agriculture. Both faced heavy criticism. But the Senate was expected to confirm them.

FBI: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told Congress the nation's security demands legislation to protect the FBI's files from legalized disclosure in court trials. He called the need for protective legislation urgent and vital.

New Monument

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Interior Committee Tuesday approved a bill to authorize construction of a new national monument "symbolizing the ideals of Democracy." The monument, which would cost an estimated 23 million dollars, would be buit with funds received in public subscription and donations.

School Board Runs Into Legal Problems

Rostraver Twp. School Board last night accepted the resignation of its solicitor, then became entangled in a maze of legal problems which stretched out the meeting more than three and one half hours.

The resignation of solicitor David Weiss, of Monessen, was read and accepted. Weiss will be sworn in Friday as a Westmoreland County Common Pleas judge.

That set the stage for some unusual events. Among other things, John Kopp, currently a teacher in the Bellmarette system, was hired as a geography instructor at a salary of $4,300. However it took two motions to do it.

Director John Deter moved early in the meeting to elect Kopp. Henry Bush seconded. In the voting that followed, Peter Backstrom also cast a yes ballot but Rudolph Godzak said no.

Since the school code requires four yes votes to elect a teacher, the motion, in effect, was defeated.

Godzak explained that he had nothing "personal" against Kopp, but he objected to the fact that Kopp had previously quit the Rostraver system. Godzak also pointed out that Superintendent E. F. Carter had recommended a teacher at the last Board meeting whose starting salary would have been $3,200, "something the taxpayer might be interested in."

Telephone Patterson

At the suggestion of a Board member, Carter then telephoned Thomas Patterson, one of the absent directors, to request his attendance. Carter told the Board that Patterson reported he was "not feeling well."

After some minutes of discussion, Carter was instructed to tell Kopp, who had been waiting in the hall for a decision in order to promptly inform a concurrent meeting of the Bellmarette Board, that his election had been defeated.

About a half hour later, Patterson arrived at the meeting. He made a motion that Kopp be elected. This time, the motion carried four-to-one. By then, Kopp had also returned to the meeting.

The directors got involved in an even more confusing situation when they attempted to elect an assistant football coach.

Patterson moved that George Estok, currently a Junior High assistant coach, be moved up to the varsity at a salary of $300 and that athletic director Jim Weir assume Estok's Junior High duties at an additional salary of $150. This passed four to one with Godzak objecting.

Rescind Motion

In the discussion which followed, it developed that some of the directors were dissatisfied by the arrangement. So Patterson moved to rescind his motion. This was done.

Bush then moved that Estok be named assistant varsity coach, omitting any action in reference to Weir. The vote on this was three to two, with both Godzak and Patterson objecting.

The directors then agreed that they didn't know whether a simple majority vote was enough to elect Estok. They decided to let the matter up to the solicitor until someone remembered that the school district no longer had a solicitor. No one had a solution for that one.

The Board did manage to transact other business, including these items:

Purchase Bus: Accepted a bid from the Donora Motor Co. for a Ford V-8 model bus at $6,984.50, stipulating a Carpenter body.

Roof Repairs: Voted to advertise for bids on roof repairs at LaGrange School.

New Cook: Elected Mrs. Ann Soyka, of Collinsburg, as a cook in the LaGrange cafeteria.

New Bus Stop: Approved a bus stop near the Harold Evans home in the Township.

Milk: Discussed at great length the distribution of milk at the respective school cafeterias but decided eventually to make no changes.

Truant Officers: Reelected these truant officers: Angelo Natali, Webster; Offie Patterson, Pricedale; Mrs. George Hamilton, Collinsburg; James Leeper, Junior High area. David Trembach was elected as a new officer for Fellsburg.

Cafeteria Treasurer: Elected Trembach cafeteria treasurer at Lebanon after the Board placed all cafeteria treasuries under their jurisdiction.

Band Appearance: Approved a request from the Webster firemen that the Rostraver band take part in a parade at Monessen on Aug. 29.

Applications: Accepted and ordered filed for future reference teaching applications from Charles Stetser, Jr., and Ernest Strem and a bus driver application from Fred C. Metz.

Raise Football Prices: Raised the price of general admission football tickets from 75 cents to $1. Students will continue to pay 25 cents. The Junior High prices will be 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for students.

Attending the meeting were directors Backstrom, Bush, Godzak, Deter and Patterson; Superintendent Carter, Secretary Marion Driscoll, Supervising Principal Thomas Gilmer, High School Principal Clifford Naylor and Athletic Director James Weir.

Following the meeting, Carter played host at a corn and wiener roast in the home economics room.

Economics Club Group Must Have Records Ready

All members of the Rostraver 4-H Economics Club must have their record books completed and present them at the home of Judy Mehalek by noon Friday, providing they have not been checked before that time.

It was also announced that all clothing and mending projects must be finished and ready for judging at the Westmoreland County Fair at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 21. The fair will be held at the recently purchased property located six miles southeast of Greensburg, near Mutual. Any club member needing transportation is asked to notify Mrs. Mehalek or Mrs. Byers by next Monday.

It was also asked that the toys project be ready for presentation by next Wednesday. These, however, will not be judged at the Fair.

Post-Nuptial Shower Honors Mrs. Fleming

A post-nuptial shower was held recently at Rostraver Grange Hall in honor of Mrs. Harry Fleming, the former Sylvia Byers, of R. D., Belle Vernon.

About 60 persons attended the affair held by Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Byers. Mrs. Byers was hostess.

Games were played with prizes going to the winners, Hattie Williams, Patty Anderson, Patty Hamilton and Jane Weisdack.

A pink and blue crepe paper umbrella was suspended over the gift table. Mrs. Fleming was assisted in opening her gifts by Mrs. Kenneth Byers, a sister-in-law.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Dave Byers, a cousin.

Guests were present from Donegal, Connellsville, Fayette City, Donora, Webster, Belle Vernon and Scottdale.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our son and brother, Joseph Treater, who died 21 years ago today, August 14, 1936
He little thought when leaving home,
He would no more return,
That he in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die.
We only know he passed away,
And never said goodbye.
But God is good; He gave us strength
To bear our grievous cross;
He is the only one who knows
How bitter is our loss.
Sadly missed by his father, brothers and sisters.

In loving memory of wife, mother, and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Sivak, who died six years ago today, August 14, 1951.
Six lonely years have passed away
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
Your end was sudden,
It made us weep and cry,
But, oh, the saddest part of all
You never said goodbye.
God gave us strength and courage
To carry the blow, what it means to miss you
God will only know.
Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

Says Uniontown Would Suffer by Minimum Wage

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The Uniontown area would suffer if a state minimum wage rate for women and children were put into effect, an official of the Uniontown Chamber of Commerce said today.

Thomas E. Bundy, executive director of the Uniontown Chamber, told a Retail Trade Minimum Wage Board hearing it was the "feeling" of retailers in the Uniontown area that minimum wages are not necessary for women and children.

"We can't increase prices, we can't increase sales and we can't take further loss in profit," Bundy testified as he pointed out that 25,000 jobs already had been lost in the Uniontown area.

William H. Whitman, secretary of the Allegheny County Pharmaceutical Assn., said the group's 650 member stores employ more than 3,000 women and children in part-time work.

Slight Chill, Then High Temperature Tips Off Flu

WASHINGTON (UP) — If you come down with Asiatic flu this fall, you'll feel just like you do when you catch the ordinary kind of flu.

The first warning probably will be a slight chill. Then your temperature will shoot up to 102 or perhaps as high as 104. You'll have a sore throat, cough and headache; your muscles and joints will ache all over.

You'll feel miserable for four or five days until the fever subsides; weak and rundown for several days after that.

Like the usual flu, it is rarely fatal. There have been only three deaths in 20,000 cases in this country so far.

No Peculiar Symptoms

If an epidemic of Asiatic flu is sweeping through your community when you get the symptoms, you can be reasonably sure that's what you've got. But you needn't look for peculiar symptoms—there aren't any. Even a doctor can't tell Asiatic flu from the ordinary kind without a laboratory test.

Except for the first few cases in each community (in which positive diagnosis is desirable to alert public health authorities to the presence of the epidemic) there's no particular point in confirming by laboratory test that you do have Asiatic flu.

The new variety of flu, which has already swept through Asia and South America, and which seems very likely to spread over the United States like a prairie fire this fall, has so far proved no more severe than ordinary flu. And the treatment is identical.

Rest Important

It consists of going to bed immediately and staying there until 24 hours after your temperature goes down to normal. Drink lots of liquids and eat a bland diet. Take aspirin or some other analgesic for your aches and pains, some cough syrup for your cough.

Call the doctor right away and tell him your symptoms. But don't badger him to dose you up with wonder drugs to ward off complications.

If you do develop pneumonia or some other serious complication—and chances are you won't—antibiotics like penicillin will be a highly effective treatment. But antibiotics are no good whatever aganst the flu itself. In fact, they may do positive harm if taken prematurely.

Authority for these statements is Dr. William H. Stewart, assistant to the surgeon general, U. S. Public Health Service.

Boosts Harrisburg Mayor for Governor

HARRISBURG (UP)—A prominent Pennsylvania Republican leader has suggested Harrisburg Mayor Nolan F. Ziegler as the GOP nominee for governor in 1958.

State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore of the state Senate and long-time party leader, told a group of 200 Dauphin County Republicans Monday night that Ziegler is "the best man you could get for governor."

Ziegler, a former state representative, had "no comment" on Taylor's declaration.

Pay-as-you-go TV In Oklahoma Town

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—The number to call in Bartlesville, Okla., is 5616.

A simple order on the telephone will transport the screen of the downtown lyric theatre into any citizen's living room.

Bartlesville, a prosperous town in the heart of the Osage Hills, is the center of the first big fling into pay-in-the-parlor TV. Subscribers will be able to view a number of uninterrupted movies on their TV sets for $9.50 a month starting in early autumn. They'll be brought in by shielded cable, an avenue over which the Federal Communications Commission has no control.

Bartlesville is not the scene of a test. It is the scene of a full-fledged business venture.

There have been at least two large tests with pay TV—one in Palm Springs, Calif., with wire and the other in Chicago by air.

Three Movies A Day

Zenith ran the Chicago test in 1951. It installed decoders in 300 sample homes for nothing and gave subscribers the chance to watch 90 movies over 90 days at $1 per movie. The movies were shown three times a day. There were good movies, medium movies and some dogs.

The average family spent $3.72 a week on its TV movies. Families watched movies about three times as often as they usually did in theatres. The experiment proved so successful that early in the game outside families tried to cheat by listening to the unscrambled sound alone. They gave up when Zenith began scrambling the audio, too.

Paramount ran the Palm Springs test in 1953 in 300 picked homes. It was conducted via open wire, a cheap highway for TV programs, but a fairly inefficient one. Open wire goofs when it runs into obstacles. And it sometimes radiates its signal to such an extent that a program can be picked up free.

What Test Showed

Nevertheless, Lou Novins, vice-president of Paramount's telemeter firm points out that valuable conclusions were drawn from the test:

—The greatest market for pay TV shows is the low income group.

—People will pay to watch any kind of uniterrupted movie even if it's a dog.

In Bartlesville, 38 miles of wire are being strung right now on telephone poles by a firm called Vumore Inc. Vumore is a subsidiary of Video Independent Theatres, a chain that operates some 150 movie houses in the Southwest.

Bartlesville, headquarters of Phillips Oil, was chosen because Video Independent owns all four theatres in the town—two conventional, two drive-ins. Its citizens get good TV reception and all three networks—two from nearby Tulsa and one from Muskogee, Okla.

It's a jumping town. Back in 1950, its population was 19,228. No , its estimated more than 30,000 citizens live in Bartlesville. Its median income back in 1950 was $3,573, eceptionally high for the state. The educational level is high and unemployment is low.

How Wires Will Work

The 38 miles of cable that Vumore is laying will cost about $104,000. Vumore will sell the cable to Southwestern Bell which, in turn, will rent it back to Vumore for $3297 a month. As a studio for beaming its movies, Vumore will use the remodeled Lyric Theatre (seating capacity: 700). The Lyric has been converted at a cost of $35,000.

There are 8000 TV homes in Bartlesville and Vumore hopes to sell to 4000 of them. Actually, the project can operate with 1500-2000 customers.

Originally, Vumore planned to give its customers 13 telemovies a month for $9.50. It has now upped the number of films to 80. It wont charge anything for installation. Some of the movies will be shown currently with the other conventional house in town, some before and some after.

Video Independent has permits from 35 other cities in the Southwest, including Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Lubbock, Tex., according to C. O. Fulgham, vice president of the theatre chain. He sees pay TV a-coming, but he doesn't think it means an end to the conventional movie house.

"We'll continue to have movie houses," says Fulgham, "as long as boys and girls want to hold hands."

Your Health—

Frisky Pup May Carry Rabies Germs

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Keep your youngsters away from stray dogs during these hot summer months. That frisky little puppy who licks their hands might be bestowing more than an affectionate dog-kiss. He might be giving your child rabies.

Contrary to popular belief, a rabid animal doesn't have to bite a person to infest him with a rabies infection. Nor does a rabid animal necessarily appear any different during the early stages of rabies than a noninfected dog.

The germ or virus which causes rabies could by chance be present in the saliva of the rabid animal. It may be present for several days before any symptoms of hydrophobia are noticed.

Susceptible persons may be stricken with rabies if an infected animal so much as licks a tiny scratch or break in the skin. And once the infection is permitted to develop, there is no hope.

Adults, of course, can become dog-bite victims just as readily as children, but, in Illinois at least, more than half of the bite victims are under the age of 20.

Moreover, nearly three-fourths of these bite wounds occur in the so-called danger zone — the face, neck, shoulders, arms and hands.

Not only are these areas particularly vulnerable, they also are especially dangerous. The rabies virus reaches the brain through the nerves. Naturally, the closer the bite is to the brain, the quicker symptoms appear and the less time you have to combat them.

Usually, it takes anywhere from a week to ten days for the first symptoms to appear, although the time may vary to several months. But you can't afford to wait until you notice symptoms.

As soon as the child is bitten, or even licked by a stray, dog, wash the wound area for about 15 minutes, using both soap and running water. This will help remove much of the saliva and lessen chances of infection.

Then, right away, take the youngster to a physician. He'll take the proper precautions and probably suggest that you try to have the dog apprehended. If you know or suspect the animal had rabies, I suggest that anti-rabies treatment be started immediately

Chorus from Penn State Appeared In East Berlin

BERLIN (UP)—The Pennsylvania State University's Eisenhower Chapel Choir sang in Communist East Berlin on its European tour, the Communist press disclosed today.

The choir sang July 28 in the Soviet sector's Erloeser Church during an evangelical Sunday service.

American authorities here confirmed the Communist press report.

They said they did not favor the choir's appearance in the East but did nothing to prevent it.

"We do not encourage appearances of that sort in East Berlin," an American official said. "We consider them unofficial recognition of the Communist-regime and support of the East's cultural program."

The choir is named after the late Mrs. Milton Eisenhower. Milton Eisenhower is President Eisenhower's brother.

U. S. Population Now 171,200,000

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation's population totaled 171,200,000 last July 1, the Census Bureau estimated yesterday.

The figure was three million higher than the population estimate for same date a year ago, the bureau said, and about 20 million higher than the 1950 census total.

The bureau said the current population is more than double the 1900 total of almost 77 million.

House of Doors

ROMFORD, England (UP) — Philip Tomkins, 53, began a month's jail sentence today for stealing 428 door handles from the hardware store where he worked. Tomkins confessed he stole the handles because he thought they would come in handy in his new home.

Teamsters Handed Stiff Warning by AFL-CIO President

CHICAGO (UP)—The AFL-CIO handed the Teamsters' Union a stiff warning today; show up for a showdown on corruption charges or be judged without further hearings.

AFL - CIO President George Meany issued the ultimatum by setting Sept. 5-6 as new dates for Washington hearings where the Teamsters will have their last chance to reply to AFL-CIO accusations.

Even if the Teamsters fail to appear at that time, Meany said, the federation's executive council will meet about Sept 23 or 24 to make its long - awaited ruling in the Teamsters' case. The council could order the 1,400,000 - member trucking union, the largest in the nation, to clean up or face ouster from the united labor movement.

In any case, Meany emphasized, the AFL-CIO will act before the Teamsters convention begins Sept. 30 in Miami. The convention could be considered a test of Teamsters' intentions to reform their union.

The union is accused of failing to rid itself of corrupt officers. The charges mainly involve discredited President Dave Beck's alleged misuse of union funds. Meany said two months ago that Beck should not be allowed to hold his office.

GI Loans Drop To Low Point

WASHINGTON (UP)—Applications for GI home loans dropped to 20,511 in July, lowest for any July since World War II, the Veterans Administration reports.

It said appraisal requests for existing houses also hit a record low of 9,036 in July, down 12 per cent from June.

The number of houses started during the month with GI loans totaled 12,329, down 5 per cent from the June figure. It was the lowest for any July since 1951.

The VA said Sunday it had 14,008 appraisal requests for proposed homes, compared with 13,736 in June.

Excluding teeth, a horse's skeleton contains approximately 216 bones.

Flu Closes School

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — All schools in Buenos Aires and its suburbs were closed today until next Monday because of an epidemic of Asiatic flu. Authorities said at least half a million persons were affected by the disease.

How to buy "vitamins"

Door-to-door peddlers are around now, selling vitamin preparations and nutritional supplements. The talk is mighty convincing. But, remember, talk won't do a thing for you. There's only one way to be sure of what vitamin you need if any are needed at all. That is to see your family physician. He and he alone is qualified to prescribe for you. Always buy vitamins or nutritional supplements from a registered pharmacist. Then you'll know what you're getting—and you'll get your money's worth.
